Pictures of Fatal Saanich Car-Truck Crash

Hudson's Bay store cashier Eva Mitchell died seven hours and 45 minutes after she was extricated from this Blenkinsop Road wreck. Body was caught in the crushed roof of small-model car. Passing motorist Frank Nuttall, Tattersall Drive, and 16-year-old Jim Mercer, 3699 Braefoot Road, helped release the injured woman, after which car was righted. Side of car, where Mrs. Mitchell was sitting, was ripped open. Driver Harry G. Mills, Goward Road, escaped with head and facial lacerations, and shock.

Car hit left rear corner of deck of truck parked at side of road, leaving right front door wrapped around end of "flat top." Another door was found several yards from scene, as well as bits and pieces smashed from car in violent impact. Broken glass from windows was scattered 100 yards.

Police say wreck was one of worst seen in this area. Car was traveling north on Blenkinsop when it hit truck which, observers said, did not have tail light burning. After crash, car spun around and turned over, pointed in opposite direction to which it was traveling. (Photos by Bill Halkett, Hugh Aylmer.)

Municipalities Ask for Probe Into Schools

Greater Victoria Bodies Make Demand

Greater Victoria municipalities want a royal commission to investigate every phase of British Columbia's school system.

A recommendation that the Social Credit government be asked to appoint such a commission will be put to an emergency meeting of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Vancouver, Saturday, by Greater Victoria representatives.

Mayor Claude Harrison proposed a commission to study curriculum and financing of education in B.C. at a special inter-municipal parley on education costs in his office today.

He was immediately supported by Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich; Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt and Councillor Fred Norris, representing Oak Bay.

"The UBCM membership cannot accept the Rolston Formula," Reeve Casey stated flatly.

He hotly criticized Bill 45 with its provisions for a provincial assessment commission and warned that the Social Credit government is "acting like Caesar."

"They've conquered and now they are going to divide."

IN THE DARK

All representatives admitted they were in the dark on just how the Rolston Formula, whereby cities of more than 50,000 population must bear increased school costs on a 75-25 basis with the government would affect them.

"The UBCM couldn't get any information of any kind," said Reeve Casey.

He contended municipalities would lose in the long run by having to give up their 1 per cent share of the SS and MA in view of the province's expanding economy.

The reeve also protested that this government, unlike all previous governments, had not consulted with municipal representatives before presenting Bill 45.

"I can see the hand of permanent officials in that," commented Ald. Frank Mulliner.

"That's right," agreed the mayor.

BUDGET TROUBLE

In addition to the commission, Mayor Harrison wanted the Greater Victoria school budget for 1953 laid in the lap of the provincial government until the entire matter is clarified. He said the province has full charge of education under the BNA Act.

"If they are going to run the whole show, let them pay for it," was his attitude.

No action was taken on this suggestion.

Greater Victoria representatives, however, agreed to return the 1953 estimates to the school board registering protest. They indicated they would not seek arbitration.

Reeve Casey felt nothing would be gained.

ENDORSEMENT PROMISED

Victoria City Council was expected to approve the resolution at its meeting this afternoon and other municipal representatives promised endorsement.

The resolution will ask that two items—$36,390 for architects' fees and $18,985 for new furniture—be transferred from current expenses to the capital section of the budget and be limited to one mill. This was suggested by City Manager Cecil Wyatt.

TEACHERS CASTIGATE PREMIER

Greater Victoria teachers have charged Premier W. A. C. Bennett with supporting claims made in the Legislature Monday by James A. Reid (S.C. Salmon Arm), of immoral teachings in B.C. public schools.

Their stand was expressed at a Wednesday night meeting, and was made known in a telegram sent to the premier today.

It read: "Greater Victoria Teachers' Association of the B.C. Teachers' Federation deplores the recent statements on education made by a member of your government, Mr. J. A. Reid, Social Credit member for Salmon Arm.

"We consider your attitude to the present time to be tacit consent to Reid's representations, and as such, a reflection on the integrity of the teaching profession of this province."

Sale of Babies Revealed By Ont. Police

TORONTO (CP)—United States couples bought at least 20 babies here at $250 each and took them back to the United States, police said today.

A Brooklyn, N.Y., couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shindern, both 29, were arrested at suburban Malton airport Wednesday night as they were about to take off in a plane for the U.S. They had with them a five-day-old baby that police said was not their own.

Police said the baby was born Feb. 20 at St. Mary's Hospital here and taken from hospital four days later.

They said the baby was taken without a formula, suitable clothing or blankets.

Police returned it to another hospital and said it seemed healthy.

The Shinderns were charged with obtaining a birth certificate by fraud. Bail was set at $5,000.

Police said the standard price for a baby was $250 and that they believe a prominent Toronto doctor is involved.

Authorities said U.S. couples who wanted a child without going through a long process of legal adoption were approached by representatives of a Toronto baby market and directed here.

Russia Rumored Ready to Regain German Initiative

BERLIN (AP)—A rumor spread through Berlin today that the Russians are planning a new coup to regain the political initiative in Germany.

Diplomatic quarters buzzed with talk that the Russians contemplate:

1. Announcement around mid-May that they would withdraw their troops from Germany June 1.

2. Demands from Moscow that Germany be re-united from the Rhine to the Oder-Neisse.

The cocktail circuit which passed the report around came up with one hard fact—diplomats said Moscow has already assigned Gen. Sergei Shetmenko to organize the withdrawal of the 300,000 Red army troops and assigned Gen. Sergei Shtemenko, equipment to the East German "people's police."

Shtemenko recently was relieved as chief of the Soviet general staff and replaced by Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky.

STUKUS NAMED COACH

VANCOUVER (CP)—President Art Mercer said today the Vancouver football club "has come to an agreement" with Annis Stukus to become manager-coach of the club.

New Sensation Breaks In Row on Education

By GORDON FORBES, Times Legislative Reporter

The provincial government has fired the official who prepared the teachers' manual, "Effective Living," the handbook catapulted into prominence by the current controversy over B.C.'s education system.

Mrs. Muriel Mackay Scace, executive secretary of the central curriculum committee and director of the educational reference and school service division, was given dismissal notice Wednesday, effective March 31.

"Effective Living" was the teachers' handbook quoted in the House recently by J. A. Reid, Social Credit member for Salmon Arm, during his attack on the province's education system. He charged "immoral textbooks" are being used in the schools.

The book, distributed to teachers only, gave instructions on handling classes with regard to dating, petting, good night kisses and blind dates.

The firing resulted in an immediate outcry of protests, and quick government denials that Mrs. Scace has been dismissed because of her part in preparing the handbook.

Dr. Larry Giovando (P.C. Nanaimo), will protest the dismissal in the House this afternoon and former education minister William T. Straith (Lib., Victoria), also is expected to deal with the matter later.

MURIEL SCACE

... dismissed from post.

'A Most Disgraceful Action'

Said Opposition Leader Harold Winch: "I think it's a most disgraceful action. It's bad for the morale and stability of the civil service."

"Mrs. Scace is a person who has done a remarkable job in her department. Now she is summarily dismissed without justification."

Mr. Winch said the government cannot say the firing is economy with efficiency "because they are placing a man with only six years' service to do her work."

But Education Minister Tilly Rolston said: "It's ridiculous to say Mrs. Scace was fired because of her work on the 'Effective Living' book."

She said the department of education reference and school services, headed by Mrs. Scace, has been eliminated in the "interests of economy and absolute necessity."

"Its abolition was recommended by Kellogg & Stevenson, the management engineers," Mrs. Rolston said.

The minister, however, would not comment on the report that only 15 per cent of Mrs. Scace's duties are connected with that department, the rest being with the curriculum committee.

Dr. Giovando, who will speak on the matter today, has placed several questions on the Legislature's order paper, but Mrs. Rolston hasn't answered them yet.

Mrs. Scace was paid $5,568 in her position of director of the soon-to-be abolished educational reference and school services department.

The 1953-54 estimates showed that elimination of this department would save the government $23,000.

Mrs. Scace has been with the civil service 19 years. She was secretary to Dr. H. B. King when he conducted the complete revision of B.C.'s school curriculum at the time the late Dr. George M. Weir was education minister.

Her dismissal is expected to be fought out, under the grievance procedure between the cabinet and the B.C. Government Employees' Association.

Part of Mrs. Scace's job in the education reference department was to edit the publication "B.C. Schools," which went out to every teacher in the province four times a year. It is considered an important service by educationists because it is the only link between the department and the teachers.

The government's plan, although not fully revealed, apparently is to have a "research assistant" take Mrs. Scace's place as secretary of the curriculum committee at $1,500 a year, more than $1,000 less than Mrs. Scace's salary.

The man, scheduled for the post, has had six years in the civil service compared to Mrs. Scace's 19 years.

Hockey Player Loses Two-Thirds of Blood

Defenseman Stan Long, of Victoria Cougars Hockey Club, who narrowly escaped death Wednesday night when injured in a game with Saskatoon Quakers, is "somewhat improved" this morning, although still in serious condition.

Dr. Barney McPhail, Saskatoon Club physician said Long lost two-thirds of his blood supply before being removed from the ice.

Long's thigh was pierced by a broken stick in a collision with Saskatoon's Chuck McCullough. Two main blood vessels were severed, McPhail said.

Long lost consciousness in the dressing room and again in the operating room. Making no attempt to minimize the seriousness of the injury, McPhail said: "For a while I thought we might lose him."

However, the physician stated late this morning that Long's condition was improved slightly.

"His circulation is good, and though his condition still must be regarded as serious, the outlook is good barring unforeseen complications."

Long, who had seven blood transfusions last night, was on his eighth transfusion this morning.

"I used to play hockey myself and I've never seen anything like it," McPhail commented.

Cordova Bay Woman Killed in Car Crash

Mrs. Eva Mitchell, 28, Fatally Hurt; Driver of Auto Slightly Injured

Her head crushed in a violent Saanich car-truck crash Wednesday night, Mrs. Eva Mitchell, 28, of Cordova Bay Road, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital at 3:40 a.m. today.

It was the first traffic fatality recorded in 1953 in Victoria and district.

A cashier at the Hudson's Bay Co. store, Mrs. Mitchell was a passenger in a small late-model car that was left a mangled wreck after it smashed into a Merchants' Transfer Co. three-ton flat-deck truck parked on the east side of Blenkinsop Road near Simon Road, at 7:53 p.m.

Harry Gordon Mills, Goward Road, Prospect Lake, also an employee of the Hudson's Bay Co., miraculously escaped serious injuries. He was treated at the same hospital for facial and scalp lacerations and then released.

An inquest will be held next Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Sands Mortuary to probe Mrs. Mitchell's death.

Saanich police said the car, going north on Blenkinsop, ploughed into the left rear of the truck.

The right front door of the car was torn off and left wrapped around the deck of the truck. The whole right side of the car was crushed as it carried on, finally landing on its roof in front of the big vehicle, pointed in the opposite direction.

Police said the truck was parked at the edge of the road at a slight angle.

Eye-witnesses said there were no lights burning on the dark-colored truck. There are no street lights in the vicinity.

Mrs. Mitchell's main injuries were a badly fractured skull and a broken jaw and nose. She was rushed to hospital by Constable Robin Stewart where she remained alive for seven hours and 45 minutes.

Saanich police contacted the dead woman's ex-husband, Arthur Mitchell, in Toronto.

Mr. Mitchell told Sgt. Jack Hamilton she had no relatives in Canada, but that her father lives in England.

The body is at Sands Mortuary.

Mayor Firmly Opposes Fluoridation of Water

DANISH SHIP, PLANES HIT BY SABOTAGE

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (BUP)—A Danish warship and seven Thunderjet fighter planes have been sabotaged in recent weeks.

Officials say a range finder was sabotaged aboard the 2,700-ton submarine tender Aegir at almost the same time that three Danish jets were deliberately damaged at Karup airbase, Jutland, eight weeks ago.

A military intelligence source says the series of sabotage cases might be evidence of an integrated Communist plot to test the nation's military defenses.

'It's All Humbug,' Harrison Claims; Municipal Heads Advocate Caution

Mayor Claude Harrison is adamantly opposed to fluoridation of municipal water supplies, regardless of the endorsement of the principle by local and provincial dental, medical and public health groups.

"I'm absolutely against fluoridation," Mayor Harrison declared flatly today.

"The best water is pure water. It's just another thing to add to our costs. Next thing they'll want to add something for eye ache, earache or headache and get the water like soup."

The mayor, long an anti-chlorination man, contends no one suffers from good, pure water.

"I'm against chlorination or anything else in our water—it's all humbug. Leave the water alone. Nature gave us a wonderful supply. Let's keep from making a mess of it."

Reeve Joe Casey of Spanish advised moving with caution on the matter stating he knew that a lot of dental and medical authorities disagree with the claims of fluoridation advocates.

"I'm neither for nor against it until I get more information," said the reeve. "Right now I don't know whether it's good, bad or indifferent. Both sides can't be right."

He said some authorities maintain fluoridation has not been tried out long enough to make sure of the value of the claims made for it.

Quebec Man Admits To Gruesome Slaying

Quebec Man Confesses Bludgeoning, Stabbing Girl; Claims She Murdered His Wife

MONTREAL (CP)—Investigation into an unsolved two-year-old murder has been re-opened here following a police announcement that a 34-year-old man confessed to slaying Marie-Paule Langlais, 23, whose nude and battered body was found on nearby Ile Bizard last week.

This came to light Wednesday night when Det. Lieut. Ubaldo Legault, head of the Quebec provincial police homicide squad, said Roland Genest admitted in a verbal statement to killing Miss Langlais "because she murdered my wife."

No charge was immediately laid against Genest who, Legault said, claimed Miss Langlais had attacked him with a baseball bat, that he wrested it from her and struck her over the head.

Mrs. Genest, 23, was killed in Genest's Montreal apartment May 29, 1951, by an unknown assailant who set fire to her bed in an attempt to hide the crime. She had been bludgeoned to death.

Lieut. Legault said Genest told police he bought an iron bar at a hardware store and gave it and an apartment key to Miss Langlais, whom he had known for three months, with instructions to kill his wife.

Lieut. Legault said that following the statement Genest led police to Rawdon, Que., 45 miles from here, where Miss Langlais' half-burned clothing was found. Lieut. Legault said the woman was beaten into unconsciousness

CCF Speaker Calls Charge 'Obnoxious'

More criticism was directed at James A. Reid (SC, Salmon Arm), author of the controversial speech on B.C. education, when George Hills (CCF, Prince Rupert) took the floor in the Legislature Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Hills labelled the Reid speech "obnoxious" and held that the government back-bencher had deliberately set out to put the official opposition party in a bad light.

He asserted that Mr. Reid, though maintaining he was quoting directly from a speech made by A. J. Cloutworthy, a retired Salmon Arm teacher, had deliberately crossed out a reference in Mr. Cloutworthy's address to a Labor-Progressive party candidate, and substituted the word "Socialist."

"We are proud of being called Socialists," Mr. Hills said. "We don't mind it in the least. But the honorable member from Salmon Arm, in crossing out 'LPP' and putting in 'Socialist' made a serious implication which was aimed at this group here."

Mr. Hills said Mr. Reid should heed the Commandment: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

Lower Rate Urged For Those Using Old-Type Phones

VANCOUVER (CP). — A 50-cent-a-month cut in charges for old-type telephones was proposed Wednesday at the B.C. Telephone rate hearings.

H. F. Salisbury, who said he represented "a minority that is paying standard rates for sub-standard service" made the proposal for the rate cut.

He said there are more than 56,600 old-type phones in use in the company's system and that unless the old phones are used "with skill and care the user's voice is not transmitted clearly."

He suggested the company could subsidize the rate cut on old-telephones by imposing a one-cent surcharge on each of the 300,000 company subscribers.

Company counsel Sherwood Lett said he would present evidence Thursday in answer to Mr. Salisbury's submission.

'Impressive Arguments Against It'

Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt said he had received pamphlets on the subject of fluoridation from Seattle at a time when that city was discussing the possibility of fluoridation. It did not accept it.

"There are impressive arguments against fluoridation and at present my opinion is against the move," said the reeve. "However, I would like to hear arguments for fluoridation."

The reeve said he had never heard any discussions on the matter at meetings of Greater Victoria Water Board, and would like to know more about it.

Authorities Say 'Go Slow'

An article in the current issue of Harper's Magazine by James Rorty tells of the unanimous "go slow" recommendation issued by a United States congressional committee—the Delaney Committee to Investigate Chemicals in Foods.

The U.S. Public Health service set up controlled studies which included the cities of Brantford, Ont., Evanston, Ill., Grand Rapids, Mich. and other centres, according to Mr. Rorty writing in Harper's magazine.

In four years' examinations showed impressive statistics on the reduction of dental decay.

Mr. Rorty contended, however, that reduction of decay is "not the only question that must be asked and answered before the artificial fluoridation of municipal water supplies can be considered safe—even for all children, not to mention adults and oldsters with impairments of the kidneys, the heart and other vital organs."

"Certainly adding fluorides to the water supply is not the only way to attack tooth decay," he wrote. "The advantages of the method are cheapness and ease of application."

"But mass medication can take no account of the wide individual variations of fluorine tolerance in the sick and in the old. Nor did the public health surveys shed much light."

Mr. Rorty contended endorsement of fluoridation by the American Dental Association "tended to obscure the fact that the program is vigorously opposed both by leading research dentists and by biochemists and nutritionists of high standing."

He reported on testimony given by Dr. Robert S. Harris, director of the Nutritional Biochemistry Laboratories of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology before the Delaney Committee.

Dr. Harris is reported to have

Tax Loophole Plugged By Abbott Budget

By VICTOR MACKIE Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Fishermen on B.C.'s coast got a break from the Abbott budget but farmers will have to pay a new tax on tires and tubes for their machinery.

Farmers must pay a 15 per cent excise tax on replacement tires and tubes which they use on trailers or on other wheeled attachments or implement towed by tractors.

The tax, buried in the amendments to the Excise Tax Act, fills a loophole that heretofore existed.

The actual amendment in the budget reads: "That there be imposed, levied and collected an excise tax of 15 per cent on tires and tubes in whole or in part of rubber to be used on trailers or other wheeled attachments used in connection with self-propelled machines."

However, commercial fishermen benefit in the following tariff reductions: Wire rope or cable, coated or not, for use exclusively in commercial fishing operations, will now come into Canada free of duty under the British preferential tariff; the most favored nation rate will be 10 per cent and the general tariff 25 per cent. Formerly the tariffs were BP, 15 per cent; MEN, 25 per cent, and general tariff, 25 per cent.

Wages and Forest Industry

REPORTS FROM THE REGIONAL convention of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL) state that emphasis will be laid by union officials this year on fringe benefits, although an across-the-board wage increase will also be sought, when working agreement negotiations are opened.

The significance of that decision will not be lost on the woodworkers themselves nor on the people of British Columbia. Last year's experience is too fresh in mind.

When the men returned to the woods after a strike injurious to themselves as well as to operators and to the economy of the province, they had gained a fractional increase only in their pay. By rough computation it will take two years for that increase to make up losses suffered in earnings stopped by the strike. That is a matter of direct personal concern to the union members.

But other features have entered the picture since the beginning of last year. British Columbia's exports to Britain now face much stiffer competition from Scandinavian countries. The favorable sellers' market which existed in the industry for many years, has been changing and the men who work in the woods of this province now find themselves forced to consider costs if they are to sell their product abroad.

The incidence of the provincial government's new tax on natural resources adds still another expense factor.

Because of the vital character of export to lumbering, union leaders will undoubtedly give serious consideration to any moves which may price British Columbia timber off the market. If sales decline, fewer logs will be cut. If fewer logs are cut a smaller number of men will be employed, not only in the woods but in all the plants which depend on the forest industry for survival.

These are points which the I.W.A. policy committee will doubtless keep in mind. They must recognize the fact that their product has to be kept at a cost competitive with other lumber producers. Their hopes of prosperity rest on the ability of B.C. lumber to find markets in other parts of the world. The problem before them, as they prepare for negotiations, is considerably more than the old boss-vs.-employee wrangle for a greater share of earnings. Among the smaller operators at least, the approaching negotiations will be a matter of survival.

Ball of Fire

THE DESOLATION THAT CAN be spread by nature on a rampage has been sadly exemplified by the recent storms in Europe. Yet the terrible destruction of the floods pales into insignificance in the light of disclosures of the power of the hydrogen bomb.

Some new and striking descriptions have been revealed by Dr. I. M. Levitt, director of Fels Planetarium in San Francisco. Basing his comparisons on the explosion of a one-ton hydrogen bomb, he paints a picture of death and destruction that taxes the imagination. This is natural force at its most terrible intensity—yet a force that would be released by man in the event of a general war.

For the first millionth of a second of the explosion, the small core of the holocaust will have a temperature 30,000 times that of the surface of the sun. This triggers the second flash, which will reach a heat of millions of degrees in a cloud the size of a city block. This ball of raging fire will expand rapidly, igniting the air ahead of it, obliterating all in its path. Only when it has reached a diameter of about two miles will the ball have cooled sufficiently to stop destroying the atmosphere. The mass of searing heat will shoot skyward at three miles a second to form a mushroom cloud.

On the earth the blast will level everything within an area of about 80 square miles. The effects will be felt over 20,000 square miles. The heat wave that follows the blast will burn objects as far away as 66 miles.

Such results are awesome enough. But they can be intensified by the addition of cobalt to the bomb. Cobalt, when activated, emits a particularly strong stream of radiation, and is used today in minute quantities for treatment of cancer. Widespread over a countryside in the form of atomic dust, cobalt could add untold horrors to the aftermath of the explosion.

Earthquakes, forest fires, volcanoes—these are terrible in their way. But they appear almost trivial in comparison with the horror that can be unleashed by man's manipulation—for good or for evil—of nature's still greater latent powers.

Decorated by The Queen

VICTORIANS HAVE TAKEN A personal pride in the award of the insignia of a Companion of the Order of the Bath to Brig. John Rockingham. Although not his birthplace, this city qualifies by reason of "Rocky's" long residence as his home town, and his distinguished military career has been followed here with the keen interest and appreciation of friends and former neighbors.

The Queen-decorated Brig. Rockingham yesterday for "coolness in action, great loyalty and skillful leadership" in the Korean campaign. These are qualities recognized by all who knew him here in the days when he pulled a sweep oar for the JBAA, played ruby for the Canadian Scottish, or set his foot into the commercial world.

But with his ability and cheerful personality goes another attribute that has endeared him to thousands of Canadians, both troops and civilians. Rocky has no "side." Coming from Buckingham Palace yesterday he told the press, "It was a great thrill to be decorated by the Queen—but really this decoration belongs to the brigade. I was proud to receive it for them and will be proud to wear it for them."

All who know Rocky know that these were no idle words. He meant them, as Victorians will mean it when they say, "Congratulations and good luck."

Developing B.C.'s Wealth

IN THE OPINION OF SOME authorities, British Columbia at present is merely flexing its muscles industrially; it is only warming up for the big production job ahead. That belief is based on the wealth of natural resources still to be brought into use in this province.

The tremendous developments of the last few years and those in prospect support this point of view.

Under these conditions the sixth annual British Columbia Natural Resources conference, which opened here yesterday assumes increasing importance. The province unquestionably has vast natural wealth of many types. It is the desire of the delegates to the conference to see that such wealth is used wisely, that replaceable resources are protected in a manner to ensure replacement and that others which cannot be replaced are used to the greatest advantage of all the people.

The conference, in a statement up for discussion at its meeting, sets forth the principle that there is no private right to do public damage. In other words, no industry should be allowed to exploit resources without consideration for the interests of everyone or regard for the future needs of the public.

Delegates to the resources convention do not aim to block development. Far from it. They do, however, call for investigation of all features of development to see that use of a particular resource does not unduly damage other uses of the same or companion resources.

Obviously such a principle demands compromise. The tree that is cut for lumber, for instance, does not remain standing to add beauty to the surrounding scene. Proper use of the resource would determine whether the lumber or the scenery is more important, not merely on aesthetic grounds but on the basis of sound economy.

Several specialists in many subjects will present their views to the conference, pointing out the merits of various uses of resources. In the discussions the experience recorded in recent and ancient history will be of value in indicating policies. The costliness of the early B.C. methods of lumbering may serve as an example. The practices by which earlier civilizations permitted their land to grow barren may provide others.

The suggestion has been advanced that a special board of review be created by statute to consider the use of resources in this province. From it would come advice on policies to be followed in general development and sane exploitation of natural wealth.

In view of British Columbia's current and foreseeable boom, the scheme has much to commend it.

Enemy Within the Gates

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP From Washington

A RECKONING with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin is very likely to be the next stage in the Eisenhower administration's shake-down into an effective working team.

This fascinating and impressive shake-down process has one main feature—the gradual recognition of the unpalatable truth that hard facts are not magically altered by national elections. Budget facts, tax facts, defense facts and foreign relation facts have remained very much as ever, and are having to be dealt with by Eisenhower as by Truman. McCarthyism, as the administration leaders are realizing, is another unchanged fact that has to be dealt with.

Joseph

ing, is another unchanged fact that has to be dealt with.

The truth of the matter is that McCarthy and certain of his Congressional imitators apparently think the Eisenhower administration is just as fair game as its predecessor. And since the election has given McCarthy and other like-minded Republicans control of their investigating committees, they are not subject to any restraint whatever.

McCarthy's immediate target, of course, is the State Department and its allied agencies, such as the Voice of America. With regard to the department itself, the tactic adopted by McCarthy is to invite every malcontent in the organization (which numbers some 40,000 people) to tell his or her story.

Thus far there have been two of these tellers of tales out of school, a file clerk, Mrs. Balog, and a security officer, John E. Matson. Their stories have added up to the fact that the State Department filing and security system wants reorganization and tightening.

Reform of the State Department, and restoration of public confidence in the department and its officers, are of course among Secretary of State John Dulles' chief objectives. There is no doubt that the reform will have to extend to the filing and security systems.

But orderly reform cannot be carried out, and public confidence cannot be restored, while every discontented clerk is encouraged to blacken the State Department's name under the glare of national publicity. Secretary Dulles cannot do his extremely necessary job under a drumfire of attacks by McCarthy and other like-minded investigator law-makers.

The case of the Voice of America is, if anything, even more acute. This wretched organization was originally established on the motion of McCarthy's committee colleague, Sen. Karl Mundt, of South Dakota. Almost from the day of its establishment, it has been treated by Congress as silly gardeners treat plants—it has been regularly pulled up by the roots to see how it was going along.

If there have been foolish policies and wasteful practices in the Voice of America, the main reason is that the "Voice" has never had time to settle down to its job.

Again, there is little doubt that the "Voice," and indeed the whole ridiculously swollen American information program, should be thoroughly overhauled. But what reputable men will choose to tackle this assignment, as long as McCarthy is waiting in the wings with a hatchet?

These questions have already thrust themselves, rather rudely on Secretary Dulles and his co-workers.

For all these reasons, Secretary Dulles and Vice-President Richard Nixon will shortly meet with Sen. McCarthy to see whether some sort of modus vivendi can be worked out. But there are two obstacles to any such agreement.

First, Sen. McCarthy will almost certainly ask for the head of every State Department officer who has ever incurred his enmity, which Secretary Dulles cannot honorably grant. Second, Sen. McCarthy has higher ambitions than a mere blood purge in the State Department. Any limitations on his peculiar methods of attaining these ambitions are not likely to suit him. This is why it is a good bet that the Eisenhower administration is eventually going to have to fight McCarthyism at home, just as it has to fight Stalinism abroad.

What's Trumps?

The Times (London)

THE remark "Letting me ruff at my leisure," casually heard in a wireless discussion among internationally expert bridge players, sounded, at least to one listener, like Browning's chorus-ending from Euripides, which was enough for 50 hopes and fears.

He (and there are thousands like him) had not the slightest idea how to ruff. As soon could he tell the difference between a defensive and a take out bid or define the gap between little and grand slam.

We are all, or almost all, of us intermittent card players from pretty well before we can read. And yet, leaving out the large minority of initiates into the mysteries of contract bridge, we never get beyond being able just, and only just, to play a hand at whist.

Let us then, during these long evenings, and while the organizers of whist drives in town and country work overtime, honor an ancient British game. It is almost the only one, except beggar-my-neighbor (and that we have forgotten), which we ever mastered.

How stoutly whist has stood up to the attack of the new comer! Indeed, let us not mince words but denounce bridge for what it is—an alien and parvenu coming, probably, from the Levant and having changed its name from "biritch" or "britch."

No Laughing Matter

Ottawa Journal

FROM Paris, that enlightened city, comes the word that the French government "is taking an interest in" the development of the society known as the Companions of Rabelais. The companions are determined to help the cause of laughter, encourage the cheerful grin, foster the jokes that lighten care.

This leads us heading into the suggestion that what Canada needs is a Ministry of Laughter. The Companions of Rabelais, with their spreading of good cheer in France, may be all right in their place but we have recollection of the Order of the Good Time founded and re-founded in the Maritimes which has signally failed to spread its happy spirit to the national capital.

It must be clear that Canada should have some sort of national authority on humor and we can imagine a Minister of Laughter, with a proper sense of duty, sending out a royal commission to investigate the state of fun and wit from coast to coast. We can also imagine, although with an effort, that commission reporting back in a handsome volume, that would leave the average Canadian gasping with laughter.

But it is obvious all sorts of things could be done by such a lovable ministry—mellow cartoons on income tax forms, the humor hour in Parliament. Take It With a Smile Week, books on "Why Canadians Don't Understand British Humor," and spicy digests of the world's best jokes published in the annual report.

Then we could advertise, to all the traveling world, that Canada was the land of smiles, of chuckling streams, giggling brooks, merry streets, and citizens living every day like a Mardi Gras. We feel a little carried away and wonder if you have heard the story about . . . ?

FREE SPEECH

Dr. Endicott and his ilk are getting a warm reception, so warm in fact that Endicott has avoided Victoria on his recent tour.

Statements made by Mrs. Ray Gardner here February 11 have raised a lot of feeling and thought that the privilege of free speech is being seriously abused, especially when it tries to hurt our armed forces who are fighting to keep us free from Russian influence and domination.

Mrs. Gardner will be lucky if a serious charge is not laid against her for her utterances here.

FIVE-DAY WEEK

According to press reports the B.C. government employees are seeking a five-day week and rights of arbitration and also that B.C.'s federal employees are also seeking a five-day week. As regards the federal employees (Victoria) being excluded from getting a five-day week it looks like some one is playing politics by withholding the five-day week from these federal employees, more especially when this privilege already exists in 21 cities in Canada.

So why hold up a Victoria or B.C. decision, or is it meant to come true before the next federal election as a vote-getter? Time is overdue for consistency and action in the matter.

As regards B.C. government employees getting the five-day week I don't think there should be any question about it. Many seem to forget the fact that civil servants as a body are not in the same category as employees in the commercial world, and that the special qualifications and years of training they may have or may go through does not always suit them for the various outside positions in the commercial world.

HALL OF LEARNING

As I walked by the Central Junior High School today, a gang of laborers with their trucks, crowbars, and wrecking tools were getting ready to start demolishing the tall, redbrick school building which faces Fernwood Road at Fort Street. I paused awhile to look at the huge, remarkable structure—a sample of austere and yet beautiful English architecture—which is soon to disappear from the heart of our city.

The city council's protest against this outrage is of no avail. The City Hall's architects and structural engineers and their opinion as to the soundness and utility of this splendid old building are not good enough and were brushed away.

The little bureaucrats in the stone tower at the Craigdarroch Castle in our city have decreed to destroy this fine English style hall of learning. They will replace it with a sprawling Spanish bungalow at the cost of one million dollars to the taxpayers of our city.

Why, Mr. Editor, why this impulse to wreck and destroy this famous, yet sound and useful old temple of learning? Is it because its red bricks are now the color of old wine, or because some of the old paint has peeled off? Or is this the school board chairman's idea of democratic process and progress?

Mr. Editor, please ask the citizens of Victoria to come up past this spot and see it for themselves. A last look at the execution and death of a noble old landmark. Perhaps some taxpayer may even shed a tear or two—tears of impotence and dismay.

NOT ATTENTIVE

Having made several visits to the speaker's gallery at the Parliament Buildings recently I could not help but notice the rudeness of Premier Bennett to any one of the Opposition Party who happened to be delivering a speech.

Let me hasten to say that I voted for Mr. Bennett in the last election, but never again.

One glance around the gallery and the Legislative Chamber showed everyone listening attentively to the member speaking, with the exception of Mr. Bennett and most of his cabinet. He, as the representative of us the people (if not in common courtesy) should be most attentive. However, Mr. Bennett just can't be bothered listening. He is either out of the room for half an hour at a time, or writing notes, signing papers or just ignorantly turning his back and having a friendly chat with his pals who sit behind him.

As many as six of his party have been out of the room at one time. I consider that the height of rudeness.

How can we expect good government from a party that pays so little attention to what vitally concerns everyone else?

Roll on the day when Laura Jamieson, who has the concerns of the little people at heart, takes over Mr. Bennett's position. There is a woman to be proud of.

ENDICOTT'S ANSWERS

To prevent heckling and allow any of the audience who wished to question the speaker, the lady chairman at Dr. Endicott's meeting at Nanaimo on Friday last, announced only written questions would be answered. The doctor, however, answered all written questions sent to the platform, and even overruled the chairman and answered oral questions of some, whose oratory would not be denied. The latter were those whom the audience told to shut up and sit down.

The audience went to hear Dr. Endicott on the subject "Cease Fire in Korea." I don't think the hecklers would be called courteous to the lady in the chair, or considerate of the feelings of the audience. However, they were much less vocal than at the Ray Gardner meeting in Victoria on February 11. For this we are thankful.

By No Means a Silent Partner

Winnipeg Free Press

It will not have escaped attention that Mr. Abbott devoted a most significant portion of his budget statement to a defense of the tax agreements signed with all the provinces except Quebec. Mr. Abbott, speaking for the federal government, made it plain that there would be no retreat on this issue which is so vital to the economic progress of Canada.

This statement assumes added importance in view of the challenge now flung against this whole policy by Premier Duplessis of Quebec. Mr. Duplessis is engaged at present on a campaign which threatens the whole structure of the federal-provincial tax agreements. One of his partners in this criticism of federal policy has been Mr. Drew and in the past Mr. Drew has been by no means a silent partner.

His conduct in the context of present events, in the face of Mr. Duplessis' campaign, and in the light of the budget statement, cannot be long delayed and it certainly will be scrutinized closely.

CANADIAN INCOME TAX HELD LOWEST

Abbott's Assistant Tells Commons Nation's Tax Rates World's Best; Exemptions Highest

OTTAWA (CP)—Jean Lesage, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, says Canadian income tax rates are the lowest in the world.

He was replying Wednesday in the Commons to charges by opposition groups that Mr. Abbott had presented Canadians with a "rich man's budget" for 1953-54.

Mr. Lesage, member for the Quebec constituency of Montmagny-L'Islet, said Canadian income tax rates are the lowest in the world and exemptions are the highest. That was true despite the fact Canada had "one of the best systems of social security in the world."

Through taxation and social security, the government was taking money from those who had it and giving it to those in need.

With the reductions announced in the budget Feb. 19, Canadian taxes would return to 1949 rates for everyone except large corporations. The large corporations would continue to pay more.

"Is that a rich man's budget?" asked Mr. Lesage.

In his first major speech since he became Mr. Abbott's assistant a few months ago, Mr. Lesage said the budget is

City Banks Give Rebates on Revenue Stamps

Victoria banks have been redeeming revenue stamps ever since Finance Minister Abbott announced in his budget Feb. 19 that they would no longer be required on cheques.

It was announced in Ottawa Tuesday that the revenue department, swamped with individual requests for rebates, had obtained the agreement of chartered banks to act as collection agencies.

Main branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce reported redeeming "quite a few."

Another bank had taken in only $5 worth, saying that most customers had used either stamping machines or postage stamps on their cheques.

Toronto Trade Slackens But Rallies Late

TORONTO (CP).—Trading continued slow today toward the stock market's close but showed signs of a late rally.

Uranium, New Brunswick base metal and Northern Ontario rail metal prospects were weak during most of the session but uranium started a comeback toward the close. The rest of the market was firm.

Gunnar moved upward to a gain of almost $1 and Chimo recovered from early losses. Most other uranium continued weak although Rix and Nesbitt Labine were firm. Inspiration, a Northern Ontario issue, weakened. Most New Brunswick issues traded lower.

Industrials were firm but Interprovincial Pipe Lines dropped $3. Junior producers were mixed but senior golds gained.

Higher-priced base metals were mixed but most others held firm. Cassiar, Dominion Asbestos, Macdonald and Silver Standard gained.

Western oils gained on firm support for leading issues. British Columbia, Caland and Western Leasehold and Pacific rose.

New York Up Slightly

NEW YORK (AP).—Considerable resistance on the upside was encountered today in the stock market as prices advanced moderately.

Prices spread over a somewhat narrow range most of the session with changes seldom getting past a point.

Higher stocks included Nickel Plate, Sinclair Oil, Warner Bros., Celotex Consolidated Edison, Goodyear, Homestake Mining, Philip Morris and Boeing.

Canadian issues were down. Canadian Pacific, International Nickel and Hiram Walker dropped $1. McIntyre was down $1. Dome Mines was up $1 and Distillers added $1. On the American stock exchange, Giant Yellowknife and Royalite Oil added $1.

London Quiet

LONDON (Reuters).—Trading conditions on the stock exchange were quiet today. The undertone in most markets was firm.

Gilt-edged stocks led the advance with gains of up to 1/8. Industrials were rather mixed with miscellaneous leaders showing a predominance of small gains.

Tobacco, textiles and stores turned soft after early firmness. Oils and shipping were generally steady.

Foreign bonds were quiet. Lifting of the copper ceiling price in the United States gave a lift to copper shares and there was some local support for diamonds.

GRAIN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP).—Prices generally displayed a firm tone in a moderately active session today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Commercial demand was not too aggressive. United States buying in the deferred market was expected to represent inter-market spreading. American wheat was in for seaboard orders with the old American wheat.

No export loadings of wheat were reported, but the Canadian Wheat Board announced moderate quantities of wheat were made available to Japan.

Prices for Class Two and JWA wheat advanced 1/2 cent.

B.C. Telephone Earnings Gain

By BURKE CAHILL, Times Business Editor

For the first time in four years, B.C. Telephone Company in 1952 earned its dividend requirements, according to the annual report released today.

Net profit before dividends was $1,714,044, compared with $1,511,818 in 1951, $991,019 in 1950 and $578,393 in 1949.

After payment of dividends from 1952 earnings the company has a surplus of $67,794 compared with a deficit after dividends of $35,893 in 1951, the report reveals.

President Gordon Farrell points out, however, that the financial statement does not reflect a full year's impact of a new wage scale signed last September and retroactive to June 1, 1952.

He said the addition to surplus which the company was able to make this year was "inadequate for a company of this size."

WIDE EXPANSION
B.C. Telephone's big expansion program called for $36,500,000 in orders on hand for material and equipment at the end of 1952.

To raise more funds for the heavy program the company sold during the year $8,000,000 principal amount of 4 1/2 per cent first mortgage bonds.

Early in 1953, the company plans to apply to the Board of Transport Commissioners for permission to issue additional ordinary shares, the report states.

Number of company shareholders now stands at 8,962, of which 7,064 live in B.C.

Reporting two major records in 1952, the report reveals that the greatest gain in new telephones in the company's history was made in 1952, with a net increase in installations for the year of 21,573 telephones.

A new high in value of new plant for the year was reached with additions worth $11,349,578, compared with the previous record of $9,391,494 for new plant in 1951.

Bill Would Make Jobs Safe For MLA's During Sessions

MLA's will be in no danger of losing their regular jobs if a bill introduced in the Legislature Wednesday is approved. Sponsored by Frank Snowsall (CCF, Saanich), the bill would automatically give an MLA leave of absence from his occupation during a session of the Legislature.

The bill also provides that an MLA would not lose any seniority rights in his regular position while attending the session.

The same would apply to a cabinet minister during his term of office.

It would make it illegal for an employer to dismiss an MLA under his employment because the member could not report for work during the session.

Mrs. Laura Jamieson (CCF, Vancouver-Centre) and Leo Nimsick (CCF, Cranbrook) also introduced bills.

Mrs. Jamieson's provided for appointment of a woman to the Civil Service Commission, and Mr. Nimsick's called for increasing the unattachable minimum of income, under the Attachment of Debt Act, from $60 to $120 a month.

PLAN TO ASSESS MACHINERY HIT

Proudfoot Says Victoria School District Will Suffer; Asks Grant in Lieu of Taxes

Compulsory assessment of machinery and fixtures in industrial plants in municipalities is unwarranted and will place an added burden on local levels, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot (Lib, Victoria) said in the Legislature Wednesday.

The Victoria member, continuing the budget debate, strongly criticized this phase of the government's proposal to reassess the province in an effort to bring about uniformity in assessments.

Relatively fixed machinery has not been taxed for school purposes by municipalities, but the government intends to bring these items onto the tax rolls for the first time.

Capt. Proudfoot said the proposal will be especially unfair in School District 61 (Greater Victoria) because most of the industry is centred in the city proper.

"It will be argued that there is justification in that they are better able to pay a greater proportion, but we mustn't lose sight of the fact that wider and more intense municipal facilities must be provided in these jurisdictions," he said.

Once the equalization of assessments is completed, he said, it is obviously the intent to base the nine mill levy on the assessed valuations as revised.

"The answer to that is no," replied Premier Bennett.

SHARE INCREASED

"As these valuations will include machinery and fixtures they will be higher with the result the share of educational costs borne by the municipalities will be greater," said the Victoria member.

The member, criticizing the government's action in slashing in half the Pro-Rec appropriation in 1953-54, said it is too bad this should be "tuning out the window just for the fetish slogan of 'efficiency with economy'."

"I don't know of any group which has done so much good for healthful recreation for the people," he said. "I'm sure the minister (Mrs. Rolston) could, if she would, put up a fight for it, get back the cut and keep this organization going at top speed."

In his talk, Capt. Proudfoot also requested:

1. Government employment for the "over 45's."
2. A grant in lieu of taxes to the city of Victoria.
3. More effort to bring the local level into the civil defense picture.

'Long and Weary' Trip Faces Stevenson

CHICAGO (UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, who lost the presidency to Dwight D. Eisenhower last November, set out early today for a "long and weary" trip around the world.

Stevenson, who is to report to President Eisenhower upon his return, made it plain that his five-month tour will not "be a vacation."

"When I'm through," he said laughingly, "I think I'd like to take another trip round the world."

Stevenson said he is looking forward to his journey in the Far East because "some of the most difficult problems we must face are there and some of the men there are going to be making history in the years to come."

Stevenson regarded his long journey as a hard job. He said he expected to work hard and steadily throughout the trip "with very little time for what we call visiting and traveling."

Included in his itinerary will be a visit to the battlefields of Korea. Stevenson said he will meet with government officials and will take a special interest in the training of South Korean troops, a subject which played a large part in the late campaign.

The former Illinois governor will also visit Formosa, headquarters of the Nationalist Chinese government of Chiang Kai-Shek. He said he is particularly interested in planned visits to Indonesia "one of the first so-called revolutionary governments, set up since the war" and India.

One of Japan's famous waterfalls is the "Splendor of the Sun" at Nikko, with a direct fall of 350 feet.

Here's sound and effective advice about colds. No matter how you try to stop or shorten a cold, the first thing to do—before you do anything else—is to take Aspirin.

You should do this because a cold is almost invariably accompanied by muscular aches and pains—and a headache, feverish feeling. And for your own good, you need a medication that will relieve these distressing symptoms—relieve them quickly.

One reason Aspirin tablets bring this relief is that they're ready to go to work with amazing speed... actually start disintegrating almost instantly.

So don't experiment with a cold. Use Aspirin. And for sore throats due to colds, gargle 3 times daily with 3 Aspirin tablets dissolved in 1/2 of a glass of water.

Cleaners Halt Navy Assault

That Navy defeated Individual Cleaners 5-3 Wednesday night in the second game of their Commercial Hockey League semi-final series at Memorial Arena was no fault of Cleaners' sawed-off goaltender, Spanky Hodgson, who was spectacular. Here Hodgson sprawls to the ice after blocking a ticketed blast by Navy's Ted Audette, extreme left. Cleaner forward Bob Fowler moves in to clear the puck while team mate Maurice Cunningham watches Hodgson. Sailor at right (10) is Joe Wood and behind him is Cleaner defenseman George Milford. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.) See story Page 9.

Vics, Alberni Favored In Inter-High Tourney

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

JUST MEANDERIN' AROUND—and wasn't the filet mignon tender at the annual Shamrock Lacrosse Club chowder party for press and radio, though the ice was chopped a little too fine... the only beefs were on the menu as the Shamrocks realize that in their own hands they now hold the future of lacrosse in the city... and capable hands they appear to be if the dinner is any criterion of the class of merchandise the club directorate plans to put before the public.

Irish coach-elect John McMillan intimated in words strong enough to be recognized that he's going to be boss when he said: "Every place in the team is open." Someone mentioned that Archie Browning "was interested in coming back to Victoria"...

Ex-coach Arnold Ferguson was the forerunner of a great lacrosse town, to director Art Ousman's enlightenment; but then Art, an ex-Winnipeg, is only a young fellow who wouldn't know about the old field lacrosse games... thanks to Duff McCaghey he's a confirmed boxer addict now...

Ex-coach Arnold Ferguson was the forerunner of a great lacrosse town, to director Art Ousman's enlightenment; but then Art, an ex-Winnipeg, is only a young fellow who wouldn't know about the old field lacrosse games... thanks to Duff McCaghey he's a confirmed boxer addict now...

Rival radio-casters Ted Reynolds and Bill Stephenson sat side by side, believe it or not, before Ted saw curling president Max Zabel enter the lounge room... J. Emerson Neely offered to skip a rink of press and radio as long as Al Smith would enter into competition... Leo Ornest told of the time Montreal Canadian coach Dick Irvin took a full sized hockey net into the dressing room and made every player on the team shoot a puck into the net from a distance of three feet just to show them how easy it really was to put a puck in the net...

But out of it all came the fact that the Shamrocks have driven the first nails in their attempt to rebuild any bridges that may have been destroyed in the past, and one of the most important factors is that the Rocks will have a junior team; and juniors, and others, if they show the talent will be considered as senior material. All they have to do is ask. McMillan will be only too willing to listen.

Here's a good example of how publicity men sometimes become too enthusiastic. This is one from Michigan State: "It took Spartans just three seconds to score on Syracuse. They tackled Syracuse's Bob Leberman in the end zone on the opening kickoff."

Now figure it out. It's 60 yards from the kicking team's restraining line to the receivers' goal line and the world record for 60 yards is 6.1 seconds shared by the likes of Ralph Metcalfe and Jesse Owens... and the Spartans traversed the distance in only three seconds!!!

Contrast: In a recent softball doubleheader in Japan featuring men's and women's games. Osaka edged Tokushima, 85-9, in seven innings (that was the girl's game) and then the men took over. Gift tripping Koyto, 4-3, in 28 innings...

P.S. Nobody in a position to do so will deny that Barbara Ann Scott has been approached in regard to appearing in the Victoria Figure Skating Club's annual ice show at Memorial Arena...

Shuba's Leg Okay, Except He Can't Run

By JOE REICHLER
VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—George Shuba rolled up the left leg of the trousers over his knee, exposing a three-inch purple scar near the kneecap. "It all depends upon this ugly little thing here," the Brooklyn Dodgers outfielder said. "I know I could win a regular job on this club if only I were sure of this knee. The doctor who performed the operation last November assured me the knee would be as good as new by the time the season opened. But it still feels sore."

"Funny thing, it doesn't bother me a bit when I'm batting; even before they removed the cartilage. It's just when I start after a ball in the outfield, or get set to throw it back to the infield, or when I run the bases. There were times last year when the pain was so great I dreaded going out to the park."

RING MAGAZINE RATES KING OVER SAVOIE

NEW YORK (BUP)—Ring Magazine's monthly ratings made no mention today of Armand Savoie of Montreal, currently pleading for a shot at Jimmy Carter's world lightweight title.

In fact, the bible of boxing indicated that Lil' Arthur King of Toronto rated a championship fight before Savoie, although the Griffithowner holds the Canadian lightweight title.

King was ranked as challenger No. 5, behind George Araujo, Henry Davis, Johnny Gonsales and Paddy De Marco. Five other challengers were named but they didn't include Savoie, who scored an upset split decision over Carter in Montreal 10 days ago.

Canada's Top Swimmers Named

TORONTO (CP)—The top Canadian swimming awards for both men and women have been awarded to junior contestants. Ted Simpson of the Vancouver Swimming Club has been awarded the Sir Edward Beattie Trophy for amassing the greatest number of points in both championship meets and in setting records.

The Beatrice Pines Trophy, awarded to the best woman swimmer, went to Montreal's Gladys Priestly, a member of the Canadian Olympic swimming team.

DREAM REALIZED?

Crowd Cheers Bus Conductor Turned Jockey

PLUMPTON, England (AP)—The gentle 14-year-old steeplechase horse Duharra started a three-mile hurdle race Wednesday with jockey Patrick Fitzgerald in the saddle. He finished with an unidentified fully-uniformed bus conductor aboard.

It happened this way: The 20-to-1 horse fell jumping in the field of the fences midway in the race. Fitzgerald was thrown.

Old Duharra stood placidly by the fence while his professional rider lay dazed on the other side.

Then, from the crowd nearby, appeared the bus conductor. He seized Duharra's reins, leaped into the saddle, and set sail for home.

He didn't try to put the horse over the remaining barriers, but steered him along patiently behind other horses in the field of 11 down the straightaway and across the finish as the crowd cheered. Track officials reprimanded the conductor when he rode into the unsaddling ring.

That frightened him. He jumped from the saddle and disappeared into the crowd with much more speed than old Duharra had shown at any stage of his afternoon jaunt.

Vic High Runners Sweep Meet

Lake Cowichan and Esquimalt High Schools have the honor of kicking the tournament off Friday afternoon. Following in fast order Ladysmith vs. Vic High; Alberni vs. Oak Bay and Courtenay vs. Mount View.

Friday night, losers of the first two games meet at 6; losers of the second two games at 7; winners of the first two games at 8 and winners of the second two games at 9, to complete the first round.

Eliminations continue Saturday night with four games, the last being for the championship. Every team entered will play three games.

In addition to the island championship trophy, individual players will be shooting for berths on the first and second all-star teams and for the Times Trophy, presented to the tournament's most valuable player.

Last year's winner of the trophy was Buzz Jacklin of Nanaimo who, in spite of the fact that he was on a second-to-last-place team, created a new single game and two tournament scoring records. He scored 30 points in one game, and 85 points for the tournament, including 17 free throws.

The Times will also present engraved miniature basketballs to members of the first all-star team and silver spoons to the alternate team.

Last year's all-star team was composed of forwards Ron Gray of Alberni and Al Snowsell of Mount View, centre Jackie of Nanaimo, and guards Claude Shick of Alberni and Gordie Jones of Esquimalt.

Members of the second team were forwards Terry Tobaco of Cumberland and Jack Mosdell of Alberni, centre Laurie Veitch of Oak Bay, and guards Len Anderson of Vic High and Dave Williamson of Alberni.

United at Home To Firefighters

Still trying to get back on the victory wagon from which they were dumped after a lengthy period of inactivity, Victoria United will play two of their next three Coast Soccer League games at home.

United met Vancouver Firefighters Saturday at Athletic Park at 2:30 and host New Westminster Royals here the following Saturday. They finish their league schedule March 14 in Vancouver against Firefighters.

HABS EDGE LEAFS; RANGERS NIP BRUINS

Chicago Black Hawk play-off hopes are brighter today. The Hawks, currently in a three-way fight with Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins for the last two places in the National Hockey League playoffs, just sat at home Wednesday night while both Toronto and Boston tied.

The Leafs dropped a 2-1 decision to Montreal Canadiens in Toronto while the tail-end New York Rangers who are gaining a reputation as the league spoilers, defeated the Bruins by the same score.

Single points separate Toronto, Boston and Chicago with the Leafs in third spot, the Bruins fourth and Chicago in fifth.

In Toronto, Montreal consolidated its hold on second place with veteran Elmer Lach scoring the winning tally. The 35-year-old star centre who has been playing in the NHL for 13 years, scored his tally in the second period to give the Canadiens a 2-0 lead that was enough for victory.

Long Suffers Critical Injury

SASKATOON (CP)—Stan Long, 23-year-old defenseman with Victoria Cougars of the Western Hockey League, was in critical condition in a local hospital early today following an accident during a game here Wednesday night. Long's upper left thigh was pierced by the sharp end of a broken stick when Chuck McCullough of Saskatoon Quakers collided with him in front of the Victoria goal.

Doctors gave Long seven transfusions overnight and said another may be needed. The stick severed the large vein on the inside of his thigh. A piece of stick embedded about eight inches deep was removed from near the main artery.

Doctors said he would be confined to hospital for the next two weeks. Long, a native of Owen Sound, Ont., turned professional in 1949 with Buffalo of the American Hockey League.

Cougars Still Pitchin', Quakers Rally for Tie

SASKATOON—Victoria Cougars, battling desperately for a Western Hockey League playoff berth, forced the league-leading Saskatoon Quakers to come from behind for a 3-3 tie here Wednesday night.

The tie increased the Quakers' lead over Vancouver Canucks to five points and nudged the last-place Cougars nearer a playoff berth.

Cougars now trail their club's bid for fifth place by eight points. They have 10 games to play.

The Quakers had to come from behind with two goals in the third period to tie the Cougars, who extended their unbeaten streak to five games.

Doug Anderson, Colin Kilburn and playing-coach Eddie Dorohoy scored for the Cougars, and Jackie McLeod, Johnny Chad and Howie Milford were the Saskatoon marksmen.

The Quakers led 1-0 at the end of the first period but the Cougars bounced into a 3-1 lead with three unanswered goals in the second.

Victoria's second and third goals were scored while Quakers played a man short.

AT HOME FRIDAY

The WHL takes a rest tonight. Friday night, three games will be played—New Westminster at Victoria, Tacoma at Vancouver and Saskatoon at Edmonton.

Wednesday night's tie enabled the Cougars to complete their last prairie swing of the season without suffering defeat. On the way to Saskatoon they defeated Calgary and tied Edmonton.

Eilers Offered World Cage Berth

VANCOUVER (CP)—A bargain offer to attend the 1953 world baseball championships opening March 7 in Santiago, Chile, has been received by the Vancouver Eilers girls' team. Chilean hosts wired Ruth Wilson, city representative of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, an offer to pay 60 per cent of traveling costs and billet the squad free for three weeks in Santiago.

FIGHT RESULTS
ST. LOUIS—Teddy Davis, 173, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Charley Riley, 128, St. Louis.
HOQUIAM—Leroy Casey Jones, 118, San Francisco, outpointed Tony Alvarez, 118, Seattle, 10.

Vic High Near Prep Rugger Championship

Victoria High trounced Esquimalt 30-6, on their home grounds to take a stranglehold on the Howard Russell Cup in inter-high school senior rugby play Wednesday.

A win or tie over Oak Bay in the final game of the season will give the Fernwood squad the trophy for the first time in nine years.

Murray Woolridge scored a pair of tries for the winners and Mike Shrimpton got Mount Douglas' only score with a try in the second half.

TOURING IRISH SOCCER SCHEDULES MATCH HERE

The Irish Football Association representative soccer team will play in Victoria either the last week in May or the first week in June. Pat Mulcahy, Island representative to the B.C. Football Association, made the official announcement today.

The Irish side, which will be recruited from the Irish League and Irish players of Scottish and English League teams, will also play two games in Vancouver.

WHERE TO PURCHASE GOLDEN GLOVES DUCATS

Early ticket sales have assured a capacity house for the Times Golden Gloves boxing championships Saturday night at Bay Street Armories.

Tournament chairman Al Duval reports that sales have been brisk but that there are still a good selection of choice seats for the bouts that will decide Island champions who will take part in the provincial championships in March.

Tickets are on sale at Perk's News, 644 Yates Street, and at Eaton's Broad Street entrance.

Ring Tourney Officials Named

All officials for the Times Golden Gloves boxing tournament Saturday night at Bay Street Armories have been appointed by the British Columbia Amateur Boxing Association.

The show will be handled by a small army of officials from Victoria, other points on the Island and the mainland.

General manager of the tournament, which will decide 14 Vancouver Island champions, is Bob Chambers. Members of the tournament commission are George Hamilton of Port Alberni, Bob Edwards and Al Duval of Victoria, and Jack Wilson and Len Davidson of Vancouver.

Jim Marshall of Victoria has been appointed ringmaster. Timekeepers will be Jim Allen and Brock Whitney of Victoria and Tom Crabbe of Chemainus. Judges are Eric Pyrah, Nick Lyster and Jerry Weleker of Victoria. Jack O'Hanley of Army, and Lieut. Davidson, RCN sports officer.

Bert Lowe and Art Turner of Vancouver will be guest referees with Victoria's Dusty Mair and Rod Bolt of RCN.

GUEST EMCEE

One of the honored guests will be Jack Short, Vancouver's "Voice of the Races," who will be guest master of ceremonies.

Sharing the microphone with Short will be Victoria's popular Dave Pys and Eric Simmons.

Official weigh-in ceremonies will be held Saturday afternoon, from 3:30, with the Vancouver contingent of 17 fighters and official guests expected to arrive in the city around 4.

A late but popular entry was received Wednesday from Alberni's classy 119-pound streak of ring fury, Bernie Hamilton.

It had been feared that a recent illness would prevent the 1952 provincial 112-pound champion from taking part in the tournament but he sufficiently recovered to enter.

Curling Tips

By BILLY ROSE

(This is the first of a series of articles on curling, written especially for the Times by famed curler Billy Rose, former Canadian champion, of Sedgewick. Article will run daily.)

PROPER START REQUIRED

First I must say I am grateful for the opportunity to approach so many sportsmen and sports women, and to present my interpretations of the "roarin' game of curling." I have always felt that curlers, and beginners especially, did not receive the proper start and continued encouragement which nearly all major sports get.

Imagine what would happen to a baseball player swinging a bat for the first time with only five minutes' coaching? Yet this condition exists in nearly all curling clubs. Many times have I seen a beginner start off his first game with only a hazy idea of what to do. It is remarkable how adept a beginner becomes in one season under these conditions. To the expert curlers, I wish to say forgive me if I dwell on the elementary features at length. I am convinced this is essential in helping the beginners off to a good start.

GLOSSARY

In a future article I will deal with the "game itself" but for now I believe it to be important for you to know the curling language. So I give you a start on a "glossary of curling terms."

Rink—Any sheet of ice at least 138 feet long and 13 feet wide.

House—Designated by a circle six feet in diameter with centre at the toe line.

Toe—End nearest the house.

Back—Usually a wooden fixture with a recessed footprint to give a purchaser from back to toe is 42 yards.

Curling stone—A circular granite stone with handle attached weighing no more than 44 pounds.

Head stone—A line at right angles to the length of the rink, 21 feet distant from the toe line. Rocks must completely cross the head stone or bow line or strike a stone already in play, or be removed from the ice. This is called a hog.

Eaglettes trounced Lake Cowichan, 79-40, to win the Lower Island juvenile girls' championship by a two-game margin of 43 points.

Eaglettes downed Lake Cowichan, 20-15, in a mid-joint girls' preliminary.

Lake Cowichan, mid-joint—Johnson 4, Finney 6, Fraser 1, Leach, Gaudette 1, Chouinard 2, Frouk, Phelpshuk, Cassley 1, Warner, Total—15.

Eaglettes, mid-joint—J. Winterburn, P. Winterburn, Perry 4, Godiel 4, Green, Hutton 8, Brown, Hearn 2, Ininski, Shaw, Total—40.

Merchants Edge Army

Navy 5, Individuals 2; Merchants 2, Army 1

You can whip an old army mule and he may take it, but sooner or later he is going to catch you when your back is turned and kick that part of you that isn't looking.

Monday night in the first game of the Commercial Hockey League playoffs Victoria Merchants whipped an Army Club that at times played as much hockey as a pack of mules.

But in the second game Wednesday night Army were a pack of thoroughbreds with mules' kicks. And if it hadn't been for a spectacular performance of Ab Ellis in Merchants' nets, the Army kick might well have been fatal to Merchants.

As it was, Merchants must have felt blessed when they skated off the ice with a 2-1 victory over the Army squad.

Ellis played the type of hockey that made him a unanimous all-star choice last season. He ate every scrap of rubber Army sent his way with the exception of a none-too-appetizing shot by Les Corby in the second period.

On paper, Merchants were five goals better than Army, but on ice, where it counted, there wasn't one iota of difference between the squads.

WOOD HERO

Ivan Wood, a Commercial Hockey League veteran who has found his goals hard to come by this season, was the ultimate hero of the game, the curly-haired winger snapping in a rebound at 6:18 of the third period to break a 1-1 deadlock and put Merchants two games up in the best-of-five playoff.

In the opener of the two-game card, Navy, revitalized by the playoff situation, had not too much trouble taking their second game from Individual Cleaners as they built up a 4-0 lead and coasted in with a 5-3 victory.

BIG LINE STOPPED

Army's persistent back-checking completely put the binders on Merchants' starry line of Toby Brown, Norm LaCree and Ron Bremner and a stout defense, anchored around veteran Phil Andreikew, turned the speedy Merchants aside.

Rudy Pishco put Merchants one goal up with an unassisted effort at 10:46 of the first period, Army a man short at the time.

It stayed that way until Corby tied it at 28 seconds of the second period with a long shot that drifted past Ellis' arm.

The clubs put on a tremendous battle from then on, skating at top speed at all times, until Wood punched home Ab Wiebe's rebound.

TARS IMPRESS

Diminutive Spanky Hodgson was as busy as a toad on a hot stove in the Cleaners' nets in the first game, but he could not hope to cope with the all-out attack of a Navy team that appears to have found itself after an indifferent season.

A lapse by the Cleaner defense allowed Martin Fraser to put Navy one goal up at 7:33 of the first frame and Orville Coulter made it 2-0 half a minute from the end of the period. Navy goalie Norm Jones made two great saves on point-blank drives by Archie Courtmail and Norm Kowalyk to protect Navy's lead.

The game developed into a rough-house derby in the second

NEW COACHES FOR FOUR NHL CLUBS?

BOSTON (BUP).—The Boston Globe, in a special dispatch from New York, says that four National Hockey League clubs "probably will have new coaches next season."

The clubs listed are New York, Toronto, Chicago and Detroit.

The paper says Alfie Pike, who coached the Guelph Juniors to the Memorial Cup a year ago, will replace Bill Cook at the Rangers.

The Globe also predicts that King Clancy will succeed Joe Primeau at Toronto and Tommy Ivan will be replaced at Detroit by Sid Abel, now the Chicago mentor. There was no hint as to who would take the Chicago post.

Zeidel, Witiuk Draw WHL Fines

SEATTLE (CP).—Defense-man Larry Zeidel of Edmonton Flyers has been fined $50 by the Western Hockey League for showing disrespect to game officials in a game in Edmonton Feb. 21.

President G. A. Leader announced the fine today. Steve Witiuk of Calgary Stampede received an automatic $25 fine in the same game for drawing a match penalty.

Minor Hockey Clubs Schedule Exhibitions

Players from Capitals, Senators and Maroons will play an exhibition game in the Victoria Minor Hockey Association's bantam division Saturday morning at 8.

Members of the Cubs, Royals and Bruins will form another two clubs and play at 9.

Second game of the league semi-finals between Cubs and Senators is slated for Tuesday morning at 7.

GAIN OUTFIELDERS; LOSE HAN, CLARK

Tyee News Good, Bad

Victoria Tyees picked up a pair of potent bats Wednesday as they began building the team that will defend the Western International League pennant this year.

Business manager Red Patterson reports that the Tyees have purchased two hard-hitting outfielders from Las Vegas of the Southwest International League. They are Joe Clardy, a lefthander who alternates between the outfield and first base, and right-handed outfielder Gail Taylor.

Clardy will bring a glittering plate record to camp from last year with Las Vegas. In 141 games he compiled a .346 batting average and among his 292 base hits were 33 doubles, 22 triples and 14 home runs. He batted in 103 runs, scored 131 and stole 16 bases.

Taylor appeared in 140 games, batted .311 with 113 runs-batted-in and 136 scored. He clouted 33 doubles, eight triples and 12 homers, and swiped 25 bases.

However, the Tyees may also have suffered two costly losses.

Leroy Han, promising young right-hander, has received his U.S. Army call while shortstop Jim Clark is suffering from a tendon injury in his right hand. Authority for the statement concerning Clark was pitcher Ben Lorino, who Wednesday agreed to contract terms.

Lorino said Clarke had had his arm in a sling for three months and he may be out for the season. Patterson stated today he did not believe Clark's injury this serious, although not doubting that he, Clarke, would miss part of the year.

Lorino is at the Portland training camp where he will shortly be joined by Bill Prior who leaves here Saturday.

Pitchers Bill Bottler and Don Hopp are due to report to the Sonoma training camp March 27. However, catcher Ron Bottler is scheduled for an army physical examination March 9 and may not join the club if he is accepted for service.

The 13-game exhibition schedule is the best ever had by a Victoria Club.

Exhibition games already set include: March 28, Seattle at Sonoma; March 29, Lucky Lagers of San Francisco at Sonoma; April 3, Salem at Sonoma; April 4, Vancouver at Sonoma; April 5, Moffet Marauders of San Francisco at Sonoma; April 7, Vancouver at Healdsburg; April 8, Salem at Calistoga; April 12, Pocatello at Ukiah; April 13, Vancouver at Sonoma; April 14, Vancouver at Healdsburg; April 15, Pocatello at Sonoma; April 16, Pocatello at Sonoma; April 18, Pocatello at Ukiah.

Care of Aged Neglected, Doctor Claims

Care of the aged is the only social welfare problem neglected today, Dr. J. F. Tysoe told the 42nd annual meeting of the Victoria Branch, Victorian Order of Nurses, Wednesday.

"It is incredible how many people live in housekeeping rooms in this city," Dr. Tysoe said. "We have extended the life expectancy of our people, but we have not kept up with it socially."

Old people, he maintained, are becoming the expensive nursing home problem of tomorrow.

He advocated more standardization of nursing homes, with respect to diet, physiotherapy, occupational and recreational therapy. He felt service clubs could take over the occupational and recreational therapy in nursing homes.

Wyatt Would Keep Wire Inspection

Victoria will continue its own electrical inspection department rather than hand the job over to the provincial government, if a recommendation of City Manager Cecil Wyatt is accepted.

Mr. Wyatt told city council's finance committee Wednesday he would recommend also that the city adopt the provincial price list for inspections.

He has just completed study of the possibility of turning the inspections over to the province. With the new fees, if adopted, he felt the department would be self-sustaining.

Mayor Claude Harrison favored the recommendation.

C (To put in time)

(A) "SPRINGFIELD RIFLE" (Capitol) — Straight from the saddle of the picture he rode to an Academy Award nomination "High Noon," old "high-pockets" Gary Cooper again hits the trail of accolades and huzzas. This time he's a Union army officer in a classy Civil War story called "Springfield Rifle."

As long as Cooper's around, there is little doubt that the movie horse opera will continue to remain the No. 1 box office attraction of the industry. The "gunsmoke," whether they're dressed up as cowboy and Indian thrillers or in the uniforms of the armies of the North and South have a definite charm of their own for millions of theatregoers, young and old, and I suppose they always will in spite of space ships and flying saucers. Certainly there is nothing to be regretted about this.

Like in most of the tall star's pictures, acting rather than action (although there is usually plenty of that too) is predominant. In addition to sound, restrained acting, "Springfield Rifle" also boasts the absorbing plot structure of a "whodunit." Here are no carefully delineated lines between good and bad. Never, until the end, does the audience know exactly whose side it's on. This, when added to the action and the acting of course, makes "Springfield Rifle" an unusually entertaining picture, one that does nothing to lessen the stature of Mr. Cooper.

Sunday Show Free But No Reservations

There are no reserved seats for the Canadian premiere here Sunday of the much-publicized J. Arthur Rank film, "The Importance of Being Ernest."

This was made clear today by local Red Cross officials who are sponsoring the performance as the "opening gun" in their month-long campaign to raise $70,500 for Red Cross work.

The premiere at the Odeon Theatre starting at 9 is open free of charge to everyone on a "first come gets best seats" basis.

The Red Cross plans the showing as a "thank you" to Victorians for "donations" they will make to the drive for funds during March.

There will be a few seats set aside for Premier W. A. C. Bennett and party, some DVA Hospital patients and a group of blood donors who have given 20 points to the Red Cross tansfusion service.

"But the bulk of the seats will be for the general public," an official said.

"The Importance of Being Ernest" was written by Oscar Wilde and the film is hailed by critics as "a first-class delightful comedy."

Stars in the film are Michael Redgrave and Joan Greenwood.

USELESS?... Not any more, Mister!

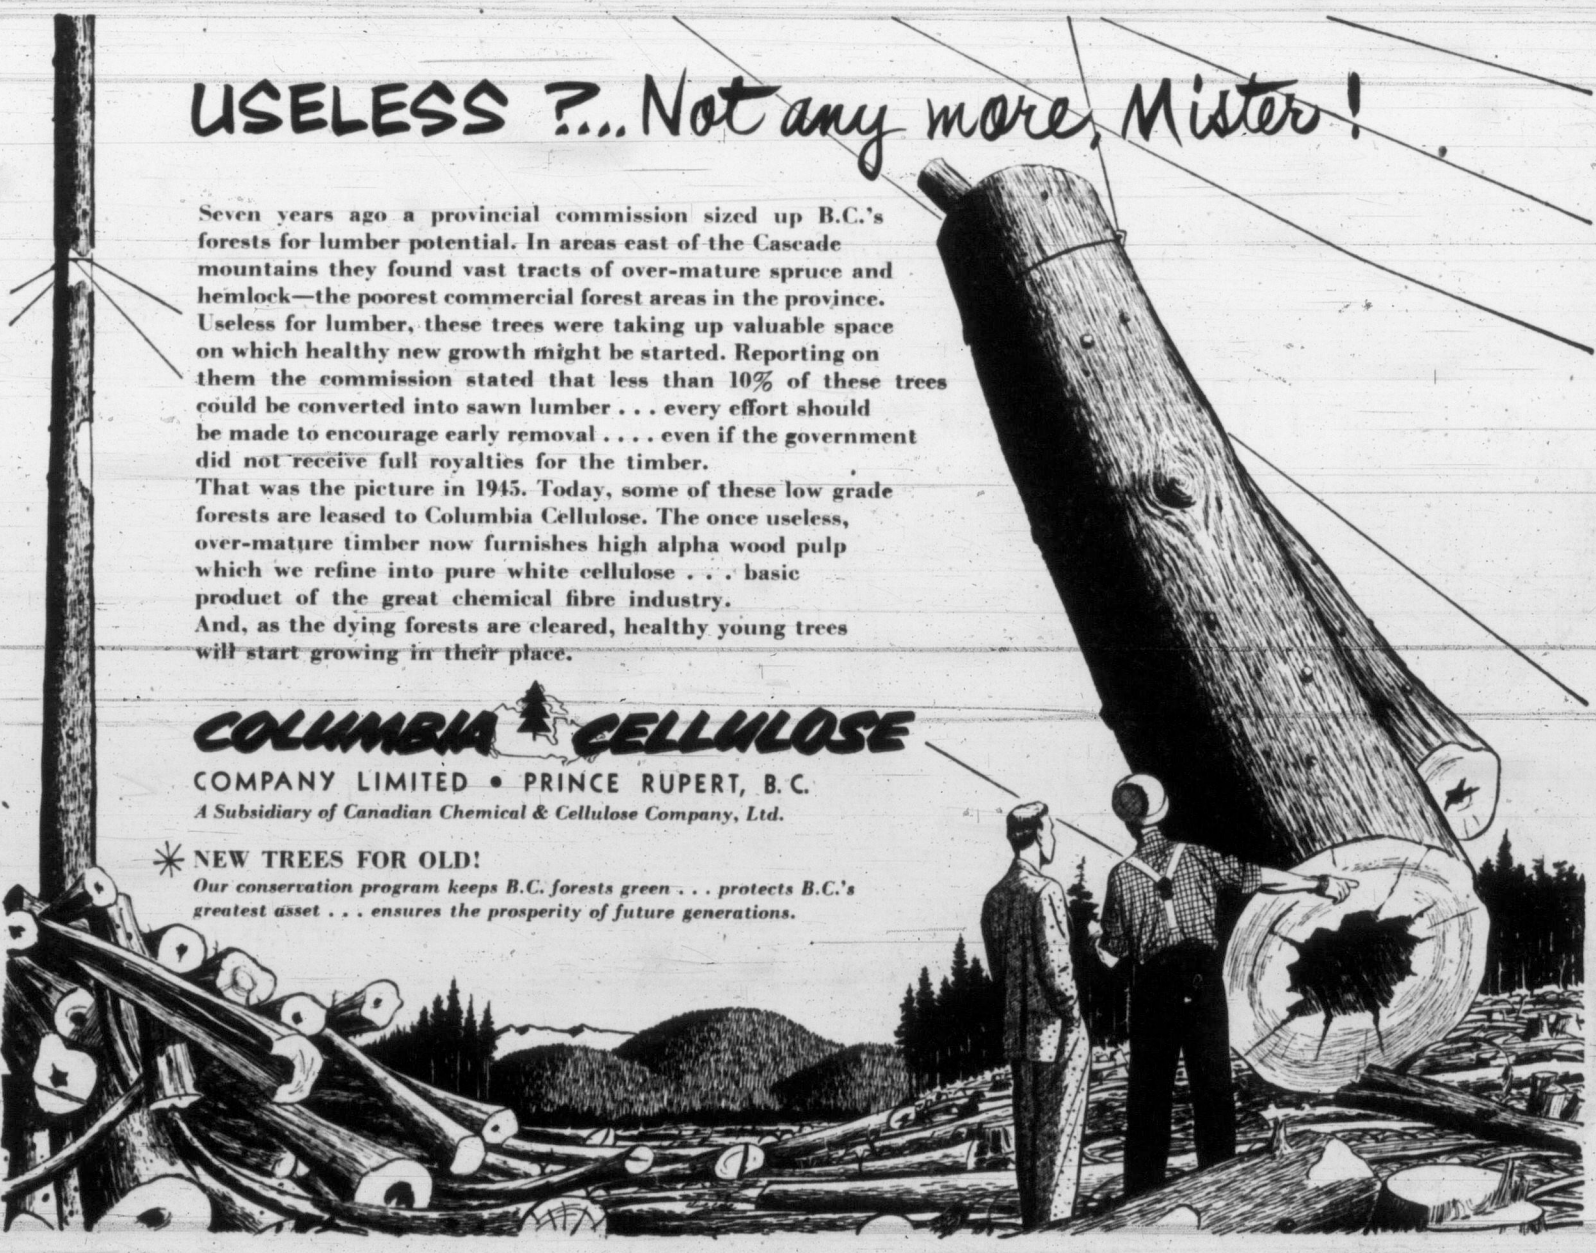

Seven years ago a provincial commission sized up B.C.'s forests for lumber potential. In areas east of the Cascade mountains they found vast tracts of over-mature spruce and hemlock—the poorest commercial forest areas in the province. Useless for lumber, these trees were taking up valuable space on which healthy new growth might be started. Reporting on them the commission stated that less than 10% of these trees could be converted into sawn lumber... every effort should be made to encourage early removal... even if the government did not receive full royalties for the timber.

That was the picture in 1945. Today, some of these low grade forests are leased to Columbia Cellulose. The once useless, over-mature timber now furnishes high alpha wood pulp which we refine into pure white cellulose... basic product of the great chemical fibre industry.

And, as the dying forests are cleared, healthy young trees will start growing in their place.

'Smoky' Smith VC On Team To Scour Island for Recruits

By ROY THORSEN

Vancouver Island will be canvassed from Victoria to Campbell River next month to seek young men and ex-servicemen to join the Canadian Army for service at home and abroad.

Sgt. E. A. "Smoky" Smith, VC, veteran of the Italian campaign in the Second World War, and Lieut. Craig Cameron, 25-year-old newer addition to the Canadian Army, will comprise the team to tour the Island seeking men to bolster the strength of the army. Lieut. Cameron served with the 27th Special Canadian Brigade in Germany.

MONTH'S TOUR

The Victoria Cross winner and the lieutenant will spend a month roving the Island, starting March 2, to supply details of service in the Canadian Army Active Force as of today to all interested.

They want keen, husky, young fellows who have never donned khaki before and are able to pass the stiff physical and educational requirements... and they want veterans of previous service.

After combing Victoria the team will head north, visiting Lake Cowichan, Duncan, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, Alberni and Port Alberni, Qualicum Beach, Bowser, Cumberland, Comox, Courtenay and Campbell River, setting up a headquarters at each centre.

It is part of a new army drive to get recruits urgently wanted to fill the ranks of men fighting in Korea, training in Germany and units in Canada.

Men interested will be given transportation warrants and meal tickets to take them from their homes to army's No. 11 personnel depot in Vancouver for enlistment.

MISTAKE IN CHARGE AGAINST MRS. MEYER COSTS MAN POST

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Harold H. Velde of the House un-American activities committee has fired an assistant who supplied him with the information for a false charge against Mrs. Agnes E. Meyer.

Velde charged Mrs. Meyer, wife of the board chairman of the Washington Post, with writing a letter to an English-language Soviet magazine praising the Russian people.

He issued a retraction later when it turned out the letter was written by another woman, a Mrs. G. S. Mayer of British Columbia. In a radio broadcast Wednesday night Velde said he fired the man responsible for the mistake but refused to reveal his name.

End of U.S. Embargo Expected To Boost Beef Prices On Coast

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Beef prices at the west coast may be in for a rise commencing Monday of next week when the United States is expected to terminate its embargo against Canadian livestock.

Agriculture officials here while reluctant to forecast what would happen to prices said it would be no surprise to them to see consumer prices at the west coast jump. They anticipate that there will be a heavy movement of Canadian cattle across the border to the United States.

Already United States cattle buyers have been active in Calgary and Lethbridge contracting for cattle which will move down the west coast to the American markets.

The expected price rise will also show a sharp upward adjustment in the prices of lower grade cuts, if the market reacts as is expected. With Canadian cattle once again moving into the U.S. where there is a terrific demand for cheaper cuts for hamburger, there will be a new relationship between prices of red and blue brand beef to stewing beef and beef that can be ground into hamburger.

Agriculture officials here acknowledged that they were in the dark about any national trend in prices of beef which might follow the lifting of the U.S. embargo. They do expect beef prices in eastern cattle will climb. But on the prairies the prices may hold fairly firm.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

MONTREAL, February 26th—Aaa-choo! This is certainly the time of year for sneezes and wheezes—so what better time to give you my favourite cure for a cold? Here it is for all of you to keep handy during these sniffling February days. Drink the juice of one lemon in a glass of water with a half teaspoon of bicarbonate of soda... added very slowly. Drink as the foaming quiets. Do this every three or four hours at the first signs of a cold and see how quickly it alkalizes your system and you feel better. Do be sure to use SUNKIST LEMONS... they're the finest, juiciest grown. It's a good idea, I've found, to keep a supply always on hand.

Do You Marvel at your neighbor's snow-white wash? Let me tell you how your wash can be even whiter than hers! You know of course that for a really clean wash you simply must rinse at least once. For the whitest wash simply put a dash of Blue in the water. Blue helps prevent unattractive yellowing of your sheets, towels and precious linens. There's no pure white without blue in it. (I can remember that from my school-days, can't you?) And, when you think that Blue costs just a few cents a month, it's certainly worth it, isn't it? For Blue is as safe as can be for your finest fabrics—and it keeps them white.

Yes, for the whitest wash, use RECKITT'S BLUE.

For A Wealth Of Wonderful, quick-to-make meals... just send for this free booklet—“Oven-Baked Bean Recipes”, written for your enjoyment by Heinz. Mmmmm... such a lot of good eating is yours when you have a good supply of HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS (all five kinds)—plus this full-of-ideas booklet. Just serve Heinz Beans some evening soon and see what a big hit they make with everyone. Mellow, meaty, mouth-watering... they're one of the most versatile foods in your kitchen. Send for this recipe booklet and see for yourself! Simply write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free copy.

Like Other Newspaper Reporters I suppose I have “a nose for news”. But this good news concerns your nose. It's about a better kind of tissue handkerchief—FACE-ELLE! Here's a softer, more absorbent tissue that is kinder to the nose. Even when you have a heavy head-cold you'll find that Face-ELLE doesn't irritate... never adds to the discomfort of frequent nose-blowing. That's because Face-ELLE is a pure cellulose tissue with no harsh fibers to cause redness or soreness. Its super absorbency helps too since there's no need for vigorous blowing when gentle patting with Face-ELLE does it the easy way! As for strength, Face-ELLE makes Canada's only 3-ply tissues and this extra thickness is such a boon for head-cold use. Get 3-ply Face-ELLE in the “pink” box... 3-ply Man-Size Face-ELLE... or 3-ply tinted Face-ELLE in the “tan” package box.

Talk About De Luxe Flavour! You really enjoy it when you ask for BLUE BONNET DE LUXE. It's MADE DE LUXE (the result of quality ingredients such as fresh farm produce, fresh pasteurized skim milk, etc.) will delight you. De Luxe Blue Bonnet is nutritious, too. Besides the natural nutrition of good ingredients, 16,000 units of vitamins A and C are added to every single pound! You'll find De Luxe Blue Bonnet extra convenient, too. Just unwrap what you need and serve. No slicing, scooping or re-wrapping. And you can forget your measuring cup when you're re-cooking with De Luxe Blue Bonnet. The handy chart on the package shows where to cut for recipes.

Have You A Fussy Eater in your family? I know a way to get her off to a good start at the beginning of the meal. Just serve any one of the delicious HEINZ CONDENSED SOUPS. In recent taste-tests among groups of dieticians, housewives, women office workers, men factory workers and members of young people's clubs—Heinz Soups were by far the most popular. Why not make a “taste-test” of your own to find out why? Buy several varieties of Heinz Condensed Soups next time you shop. Compare them at the same meal with any other brand. I'm sure you'll discover why Heinz Soups are the taste-treat to make “fussy eaters” sit up and take notice!

We All Agree At Bridge the other day that those grand new chemical soaps make dishwashing a pleasure (well, almost!). And we agreed, too, that JERGEN'S LOTION is ideal for hands roughened and dried by these new soaps. Because it's liquid, Jergens quickly penetrates to supply the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. Keep a bottle of Jergens Lotion handy in both kitchen and bathroom. Use it after every watery chore to keep your hands always soft, smooth and lovely, with that careful look that only Jergens can give them. Yes, it's good advice to remember Jergens Lotion—because you care for your hands. Costs just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15.

The Case Of The Missing Pigeonhole—I used to have to solve this mystery many times a year. Somehow or other, something important always got left out of my budget. It was either a case of not enough pigeonholes or not enough money. But now, with the same amount of money, I find I have enough to go around. I've come to put into my BANK OF MONTREAL Savings Account as well. That's because I discovered Personal Planning. It's taught me how to make my budget anticipate and meet all my most important needs—and save! It's a grand and glorious feeling and one I'd like you to have. So why not go around early tomorrow—to your neighborhood branch of the Bank of Montreal and ask for your free copy of their “Personal Planning” booklet? Speaking from personal and happy experience—I can assure you that Personal Planning will show you how to make the most of the money you have—no matter how little or how much.

Are You “In The Dark” about feminine hygiene? It's something every woman should know about... and many have found that the most satisfactory method of feminine hygiene is ZONITORS. Zonitors are greaseless, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories that are powerfully germicidal—yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues. And they're so very dainty and convenient to use! Ask your druggist for Zonitors tomorrow—and write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for a free booklet giving facts you should know about feminine hygiene. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Next week is Education Week in these parts, and none too soon, either. The way things have been going lately, we had better make it "Be Kind to Education Week."

A constituent whose handwriting is familiar, but whose name escapes me, says there is a Grade 10 student at Victoria High who has no further need for the Effective Living course.

This enterprising young man, by means best known to himself, secured a carton of four dozen doughnuts. He carried it to school and proceeded to strike bargains with his hard-working associates.

He offered a dozen doughnuts to the student who would do his math problems, a dozen and a half to the one who'd prepare his French, and so on through his work list. All his work was done, and he had enough doughnuts left over to stuff himself suitably.

"If that isn't effective," says the constituent, "I do not know what is."

The CPR's Charles Burpee, who was stationed in Washington, D.C., before coming here, reports that the U.S. capital is the partying city he's ever encountered.

"If you wish to maintain your health," he says, "you need to keep a reserve supply of nice ways to say 'no' to invitations."

One member of Canada's naval staff in Washington, who has a statistical mind, kept count of the cocktail party invitations received in his first year there.

The count was 276.

"Wonder what he did on the other 89 days?"

Hon. Eric Martin, I am told, played to an appreciative audience the other night when he spoke in the budget debate, and displayed a fine sense of humor.

One of his best laughs was earned when he insisted that the Social Credit Party patronized Union Printers for all its literature.

"You'll always find the union label on our literature," he said, "especially during elections."

Apparently last evening in the legislature was largely devoted to hon. members demanding that other hon. members resign.

If everyone quits who is told to quit, we would have a very lonely looking legislative assembly.

Think of the sessional indemnities we'd save—but on the other hand, think of the fun we'd miss.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A full-time assessor will be hired at Oak Bay according to municipal clerk, A. D. Findlay. The appointee must be able to assess lands and buildings, prepare and maintain records. Applications must be submitted by March 8.

Victoria Short Wave Club will hold a regular meeting at 8 p.m. on Friday at 2500 Foul Bay Road.

Saanich Health Unit will sponsor a chest X-ray clinic at Belmont High School Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. for residents of Langford, Colwood, Happy Valley and Metcheson.

Volunteers for clerical duty at the clinic may telephone Mrs. R. Eveleigh, Langford Lake, Belmont 152X.

William Halliday, Vancouver, was fined $10 and was restricted to driving for business purposes only for two months when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of careless driving.

The court was told Halliday was in a crash with another car Feb. 23 at Cook and Bay, about $1,250 damage done to vehicles.

M. Hoffmeister was elected president of the Victoria Roller Canoe Club at an annual meeting Wednesday. Mrs. W. Cross was elected vice-president; Mrs. M. Hoffmeister, secretary; and Mrs. J. Eddie, treasurer.

James Bernard Meakin, no fixed address, was given a "floater" by Magistrate H. C. Hall when he appeared in city police court today and pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy. He was remanded to Friday on his own recognizance.

S. T. Bentell, 337 Michigan, reported to city police that an Indian blanket, a motorcycle helmet and a pair of goggles were stolen from his car while it was parked in the 700 block of Yates Street Wednesday night.

Illness of band leader Gordon King's father has forced cancellation of a scheduled musical variety show "Concert Moderne" at the Club Sirocco Sunday night.

Promoters of the show have announced it will be held the following Sunday, March 8 at the Sirocco. The show will feature King's 16-piece modern orchestra, composed entirely of local musicians and a number of guest artists.

An artist's sketch of the proposed Boys' Industrial School at Brannan Lake, just north of Nanaimo, is shown here. The provincial government will call for tenders on construction of the $1,000,000 unit soon. The school, which will relieve over-crowding at the present school at Coquitlam, will house 150 boys. It will have administrative offices, a security wing for recalcitrant boys, a hospital with a surgery, a dispensary, a six-bed general ward and a two-bed isolation ward, classrooms, workshops, an auditorium and swimming pool and dormitories.

MARIAN ANDERSON HERE

Great Artist Sings To End Prejudices

By MONTE ROBERTS

Marian Anderson, the magic of whose contralto voice has enthralled millions, will no longer sing before segregated audiences.

It is another decision in her life-long, slow but steady campaign for understanding between negroes and their fellow American citizens—a decision reached with careful thought, but once reached, irrevocable.

In the Empress Hotel this morning, Miss Anderson recalled her early concerts in the southern United States, when negroes were permitted to sit only in the upper balcony.

"There were many who wanted better seats, and could knowledge and tolerance, the structure of racial understanding can stand forever.

KNIT BY WAR

"I hate war like anything, but one thing war has done is give us a chance to understand each other. Regardless of color, we all have the same ability to go hungry, to suffer, and war does throw us together."

Miss Anderson explained segregation in the form of a parable: a man who says he does not like a cat or an olive, because he has never tried them, should at least taste.

"He doesn't have to like them, but he should give himself the chance to find out."

Her unsegregated concert, she believes, will be one small way for both races to "find out."

Miss Anderson, who will make the only Canadian appearance of her current tour at the Royal Theatre this evening, will remain in Victoria, "just resting" until Sunday. This morning she and her long-time manager, J. A. Joffe, were planning her annual Easter Sunday concert to be presented at the Metropolitan Opera, New York.

Also in her future plans are acceptance of an invitation to tour Japan, and to sing for civilians and soldiers in Korea. "I must see Helen Traubel before I go," she said, with a warm smile. "Helen can tell me how to behave in Korea."

All those who have met and talked with Miss Anderson are sure she knows "how to behave" with captivating charm in all places, and with all peoples.

World-famous contralto Marian Anderson, tireless worker toward racial understanding, is in Victoria for a concert at the Royal Theatre this evening.

afford them," she said. "The first step we took was to insist that segregated audiences be divided 'down the middle' of the house—vertically instead of horizontally, so that both races would have equal choice of the better seats."

"We lost some engagements because of this decision, but it has worked out well. Last year, only one or two theatre managers refused, because they were afraid of the effect it would have on their year-round business."

INTO DEEP SOUTH

Miss Anderson's refusal to sing before audiences segregated in any manner is effective with a tour into the "Deep South" she is undertaking in early April.

Her attitude towards eventual elimination of racial misunderstanding is cautiously optimistic.

"Any worthwhile project must be built slowly, on a solid foundation," she said. Her graceful hands outlined the shape of a triangle. "It is no use building to an apex with nothing beneath it," she said. "Built in a hurry, this structure could collapse at a touch."

"But built on solid foundations, slowly filled in with

Princess 'Pat' Back In Service Monday

Ss. Princess Patricia, which has been out of service during the winter months, will go "back to work" again Monday.

Spring refit has been completed, and the ship went through steaming trials in Juan de Fuca Strait Wednesday. She will relieve Ss. Princess of Nanaimo on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run for three weeks, while the big ferry is in for spring overhaul, and following that will relieve Ss. Princess Marguerite as the day ship Vancouver-Victoria.

TRACK, FIELD STARS IN TITLE MEET HERE

Victoria will host the B.C. men's and women's open track and field championships on Labor Day, Olympic coach, Bruce Humber announced today.

Awarding of the championships to Victoria for the first time in history was recently ratified by the B.C. Track and Field Association and the Women's Athletic Federation.

The championship meet will be held at Victoria High School stadium.

Mr. Humber also revealed that the Vancouver Island championships will be held here, June 20.

Bennett Labeled 'Jack-in-the-Box' Premier

George Hills (CCF, Prince Rupert) spoke out Wednesday for opposition members of the legislature who are becoming increasingly exasperated at Premier W. A. C. Bennett's habit of "popping up" from his seat and offering comments when other members are speaking.

Mr. Hills said Premier Bennett had displayed throughout the session "a jack-in-the-box attitude."

The expression was received with much delight by Mr. Hills' colleagues.

"The jack-in-the-box premier," one CCF'er called. "That's a good name for him."

Main critic of the premier so far has been E. E. Winch (CCF, Burnaby), who on several occasions has become so aggravated by the premier's interruptions of other members he has called out: "For heaven's sake, be quiet, man," and on one occasion: "Ah, shut up and quit acting like a kid."

The premier, on the other hand, stoutly defends the right of any member to heckle a speaker. He has said privately to opposition members of the House have the wrong idea about parliamentary procedure. "If they had ever seen the British House of Commons in action they'd know what debates should be like," he said.

Demands for resignations came thick and fast during the debate, the Social Credit now leading in this department.

Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi demanded the resignations of Opposition Leader Harold Winch, Frank Snowsall (CCF, Saanich), and Vincent Segur (CCF, Revelstoke).

The members, the minister said, had made false charges against him concerning use of public works department plans, funds appropriated for public works and use of a government truck to tow his car.

"The members should prove their charges or resign," said Mr. Gagliardi, following up the CCF demand that J. A. Reid (SC, Salmon Arm) do likewise in connection with his charges against B.C.'s education system.

The minister based his demands on articles in the CCF news which he said were not true.

"Would you be willing to resign if they were proved?" asked Mr. Snowsall.

The minister said he would, and William Moore (CCF, Comox) said Mr. Gagliardi had better get his resignation ready.

Premier Bennett then said Mr. Moore should resign his seat also if the CCF couldn't prove what he said were their charges against Mr. Gagliardi.

"Sit down," shouted Randolph Harding (CCF, Kaslo-Slocan) to the premier. Mr. Segur then jumped up and demanded the minister withdraw a remark which, he said, was intended to brand him a liar.

"Don't go off half-cocked. Hold your wind a bit," the Revelstoke member said.

SPEAKERS IN LEGISLATURE

Dr. Lorenzo Giovando (Conservative, Nanaimo) and William Moore (CCF, Comox) will be speakers at tonight's sitting of the B.C. Legislature.

At Friday's afternoon sitting Labor Minister Lyle Wicks will make his maiden speech in the House. He will be followed by James Bury (CCF, Vancouver Centre) and M. E. Snowden (Liberal, North Vancouver).

The Friday sitting will begin at 2:30. There will be no sitting Friday night.

THIEVES RUN FROM GORGE GOLF CLUB

Blacked-Out Car Races From Scene

Thieves, scared off after breaking into the Gorge Vale Golf Club late Wednesday night, are believed to have escaped in a car which raced from the scene without lights.

Esquimalt police surmise the burglars made a hasty departure as only about 15 packages of cigarettes were taken.

Police think it likely the culprits were in the blacked-out car seen going at high speed by a passer-by in the golf club area.

Police of the district were alerted by radio.

Here is the dismissal notice sent to Mrs. Sance by Dr. F. T. Fairley, deputy education minister:

"It is with much regret that I have to inform you that I have been directed to state that the division of educational reference and school service is to be discontinued at the end of the present fiscal year. The government has decided to eliminate this division entirely and has made no provision for its continuance beyond March 31, 1953.

"Because no provision has been made, it is my duty to inform you that your services are to be discontinued from March 31.

"May I, at this time, tender to you the sincere thanks of myself, personally and of the department, for the most efficient work you have done over so many years, and to express my regrets that your services will no longer be available to us."

Plan Conference Here

Known as the Canadian Society of Radiological Technicians, the group will hear several papers from students of the school of radiography at St. Joseph's Hospital here.

Miss Yvonne Rose, Victoria technologist, Dr. G. L. Walther and Dr. J. Boyd Roberts will address the convention.

Cracksmen Continue Daring City Raids

Point Hope Shipyard Loses Safe But Thieves Won't Get Cash Loot

A daring safe-stealing gang which is plaguing Victoria struck again Wednesday night.

They escaped with a safe from the Point Hope Shipyard, industrial reserve plant. But it contained no cash.

If they followed their usual practice, they carried it to some safe, country hide-away to hack it open.

This was the sixth safe that has been the target of thieves in this area in the last 16 days.

TWO CARTED AWAY

Two safes carted off and cracked open with axes and crowbars netted the gang $225 in cash and $200 in bearer bonds.

Thieves abandoned two others $250 after they had started operations to remove them. During this period the Standard Steam Laundry safe buried in cement was blown to realize a $500 cash prize.

The shipyard firm's safe only contained insurance and business papers.

Nothing else in the offices was disturbed, reported Detective Deans Blackstock.

Entry was gained to the offices by breaking a small hole in a window on the north side of the building to enable release of the catch.

The stolen safe was 28 inches high, 16 inches wide and 16 inches deep.

Defense Plant Workers Get Housing Offer

Shipyard Staffs May Be Included

A government-sponsored low down payment housing plan now offered to naval dockyard workers here could possibly be extended to other defense workers in the Victoria area.

David Croll (L. Toronto-Spadina) said in the Commons at Ottawa Wednesday that Canadian defense industries are not applying for classification which will allow their employees to get defense-worker 10-per-cent-down housing loans.

The fact that this was not being done to the full extent was "a display of human callousness," he said. He added that if industries concerned with defense took full advantage of that provision the government "may extend the provision to other people of the country."

Croll said Canada was still short 500,000 homes.

Chas. R. Watson, Yarrows secretary, said today a questionnaire had been received from Ottawa and that the company had agreed to be classed as a defense industry, "... but as far as I know, we have heard no more about it," he added.

Speaking for Victoria Machinery Depot, H. S. Hammill, general manager, said: "We have had no communication from the government in this regard... at least not recently."

DOCKYARD CLASSIFIED

The plan, handled through the government's housing finance institution, Central Mortgage Corporation, has been explained to civilian personnel at HMC Dockyard here which has been classified as a defense industry.

Workers in industry defined as "defense industry" can get a $10,000 home-building loan from the government on a 10 per cent down payment, with 20 years to pay the balance. Other Canadians make a 20 per cent down payment for the same loan.

J. McCullough, branch manager for Central Mortgage, could not say today whether Victoria Machinery Depot Co. or Yarrows Ltd. could receive the classification as only a percentage of their projects are for defense purposes.

"The only area so far designed by Ottawa as a defense industry is the dockyard," he said. "It is too early to judge employee reaction yet, but there is no minimum limit to the number of houses we can build. If there is only one applicant we will proceed."

"Under the scheme a defense worker can build anywhere within a 15-minute drive from his work," he added.

Monthly payments on a $9,000 mortgage, spread over 20 years amount to $60.20, plus taxes and insurance.

Municipalities

Mayor Harrison suggested H. H. Shandley, retired judge of the county court in Victoria for chairman of any royal commission on education.

"He's a good practical man," the mayor also wants representatives of municipalities on the commission "rather than politicians."

"Let's clean this up once and for all," he urged. "It's impossible to go on."

The mayor said he felt the provincial government thought they were doing a good thing with the Rolston formula.

"I don't see how they could," countered Reeve Casey. "Under Bill 45 (which is connected with the formula) anything is taxable," said the reeve.

"If you have a power lawn mower or a sewing machine or a milk shake machine at home they can tax it."

Said City Solicitor Arthur Patton: "It's a personal property tax with absolutely no limit."

Reeve Casey said the province would have the power to tell municipalities to raise their assessments.

KOREANS WON'T RETREAT

'Stay and Get Clobbered' Ex-Victoria Boy Reports

A young U.S. marine, fresh from the Korean battle front, said today the Republic of Korea army is too well imbued with the "do or die" spirit.

"They won't retreat," said Staff Sgt. Darwin Dederick, 23, who is spending part of his leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pistell, 3891 Savanah, after 11 months overseas.

"The Korean soldiers just won't back up," he said. "Rather than move back an inch they'll stay in one place and get clobbered."

Although he was raised and educated at Cobble Hill, Staff Sgt. Dederick was born in the United States and joined the U.S. Marine Corps as soon as he reached enlistment age. He now has close to five years of service, and is well into his second "hitch."

An aircraft maintenance man, he is attached to a wing using old Second World War Corsair fighter-bombers.

"They are used for close air support, and do a fine job," he said. "They are very manoeuvrable in a dog fight, and have shot down a few 'Migs,' but mostly they're like a Model T trying to catch a Cadillac."

Troops in Korea are anxious to see some definite action, he said.

It seems to be a matter of you take the hill today and I'll take it tomorrow. Most of the soldiers would like to see a big push that would really decide something," he said. Staff Sgt. Dederick, who is aiming for a commission in a few years, will be here until Wednesday, then will leave for California.

SHOPPING GUIDE

'If Ye Have Faith as a Grain of Mustard Seed—'

By PENNY SAVER

This necklace will interest a lot of people who don't go in for the usual kind of jewelry. It is called an Amulet of Faith. There is a small crystal ball bound with a wedding ring band on a gold chain and inside the crystal one small mustard seed is clearly visible.

A quotation from Matt. 17:20 is on an accompanying card: "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed—nothing shall be impossible unto you." I think we all know someone who would appreciate this and the price is only $1.50.

A pretty bit of sentiment is the very new gold-filled bracelet or brooch, with a tiny calendar suspended. Select the calendar in your birthday or anniversary month and then have a tiny jewel inset into the date you wish to remember. The bracelet has a link chain and sells at $2.50. The brooch or lapel pin is yours for $2. There is a full selection of birthstones and the machine to set them is right at the same counter. There is no charge for this.

Are you going to be one of the luckies that get a brand new silver dollar, issued in honor of our Queen? One of our largest department stores has ordered 3,000 and will include a souvenir silver dollar in place of a paper one in each customer's change. So be looking for these on Friday!

Have you noticed the "Penny Wash" put out by a well-known hosiery mill? This is an envelope of 25 detergent impregnated papers, for 25 cents. Specially made to wash nylon hosiery or lingerie and will make them look nicer and last longer. Just take one sheet of this special paper, swirl it in lukewarm water, then pop in whatever you are going to wash. Good with any water, soft or hard, and only one rinsing required. Think what a boon this will be when you travel!

One of our little shops is showing novelty earrings and matching gold-filled brooches in a treble clef design. These would make a welcome gift at $1 to anyone with an interest in music.

Auxiliary Birthday Banquet

Strathcona Hotel was setting recently for an annual birthday party and banquet of the Woman's Auxiliary, No. 65, of Victoria Typographical Union, Local No. 201. Mrs. G. Birch presided at the head table which was tastefully decorated with daffodils and tulips, and centred with a birthday cake. Others at the head table were Mrs. L. Valentine, Mrs. A. Wright, Mrs. R. Kullman, Mrs. J. H. Sneddon and Mrs. F. J. Houghton.

Mrs. Sneddon proposed a toast to the Victoria Typographical Union, which was answered by Mrs. Valentine. The toast to the auxiliary members was given by Mrs. Wright, and the reply by Mrs. J. Jameson. Following dinner, Mrs. Kullman presented gifts of jewelry to retiring president, Mrs. Birch and retiring secretary, Mrs. Wright. Court whist was played and winners were Mrs. V. Schebek, Mrs. E. Johnston, Mrs. Kullman, Mrs. H. Hallet and Mrs. Sneddon.

The Victorian Order of Nurses made it possible last year for 135,000 Canadians to receive nursing care at home. Fifty-five per cent of the patients treated by the order's graduate registered nurses were mothers and babies, 40 per cent were medical and surgical cases. The remainder required health supervision.

To prevent wrinkles in orlon garments, they should be hung up to dry dripping wet. Do not even wring them out before hanging. You can easily put in or take out creases with an iron set at "rayon," i.e., moderately warm. Dampening is not necessary.

Check Reservations for Buffet Supper

Cocktails will be served at 6. The affair is being arranged by the club's ladies' auxiliary under convener'ship of Mrs. Mercer and Mrs. Charles King.

AS WE LIVE

Age Difference Troubles Stem From Couple's Ideas

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Many couples, especially wives, are sensitive about the fact that the wife is older than the husband. Does this really matter as much as people think? And, does it mean that the marriage is starting off on the wrong basis? These are the problems bothering the young man who wrote:

(Q) "I am 23 and dating a girl who is 25. We have discussed the matter a little and decided that, the longer no one knows our ages, the better off we would be. I am very fond of her and want to know if we should let this matter interfere with the future. Are there marriages where the woman is older than the man? I would like to have your ideas on this subject."

(A) I have expressed my ideas on this subject in this column several times. My ideas are unchanged and they are based on research studies of large groups of married couples where the husband is younger than the wife.

In general, these studies have shown that the marriages have just as good a chance for success as have marriages where the age difference is in favor of the husband. Why, you may ask, is this true?

There are two reasons that invariably are given for this. In the first place, it is the wife more often than the husband who must make the major adjustments to marriage. Her life is changed by marriage far more than is the man's. A slightly older woman is better able to make adjustments than is a younger, less experienced woman.

Then, the second reason often given is that a man who is younger than his wife is far less likely to be "bossy" than is the one who is older than his wife. There is nothing in our modern marriages that will cause trouble more quickly than the masculine attitude of being "lord and master."

Only if you allow this difference to make you self-conscious, and only if the woman you plan to marry is upset by the age difference is it likely to be a source of trouble. You are wise not to broadcast the fact that you are younger than she. By doing so, you may find some people who will wonder why you are marrying an older woman and this is bound to affect your own attitude.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Experts in nutrition are convinced that what we eat affects the rate at which we age.

By the time a man or woman reaches 60 he or she requires 35 per cent fewer calories than at the age of 30.

You do not need great quantities of starches and sugars. Fats should be avoided to a great extent. The average older individual is poor in iron and calcium and vitamins A and B. The importance of proteins in the diet of the middle-aged and older person is being more and more emphasized.

Many who sincerely try to eat scientifically as they grow older make the mistake of thinking that cutting down on food means cutting down on variety in foods. Some of them have lost teeth or have poorly fitting dentures which make eating certain foods difficult.

These general rules should be followed:

1. Cut down on the number of calories you consume daily. 2. Eat a well-balanced, varied diet, but go low on starches and sugars and fats (butter, oleo, fried foods, salad oils and dressings and gravy and fat meat and pastries).

3. Increase protein and calcium and iron in your diet. This means plenty of meat, fish, fowl, cheese, sea foods, eggs, milk, green and yellow vegetables, and even calcium tablets if your doctor recommends them.

If you would like to have a week's menus which are planned for health and beauty, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Diets for Youth and Health," No. 43, to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Bride Choses Orchid Theme

Nuptial vows were exchanged recently at St. Andrew's Cathedral between Jean Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Blissett, Royal Oak, and Richard Alan Nicol, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Moxey of Vancouver. Father D. Johnston performed the ceremony. Wedding music was rendered by Miss M. MacKay, organist, and vocalist, Miss Leona Handley.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina style dress of orchid net over satin, with matching jacket, mits, a cap of the satin and shoulder-length veil. Her bouquet was composed of callistys and freesia, centred with a mauve orchid.

Miss Marilyn Bellamy attended in a ballerina gown of pale green net over satin. A tiara of the net with velvet leaves, net mits and a bouquet of violets completed her ensemble. Best man was LAC Ches Legaarden.

At a reception at the Olde England Inn, Mrs. Blissett assisted in receiving guests, wearing a blue crepe afternoon frock, featuring long bodice and pleated skirt. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

A three-tier wedding cake, embedded in tulle and ringed with daffodil blossoms, was flanked with white candles in silver candelabra. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. W. Cowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicol spent their honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle. For traveling Mrs. Nicol wore a grey suit, black fur coat, black and mauve accessories and an orchid corsage.

Looks to New Fields

Leaving today for Port Alberni, is a woman who has contributed profoundly in a specialized and exacting field of nursing in this city.

Mrs. Florence MacDonald, supervisor of the psychiatric observation ward, Royal Jubilee Hospital, is returning to general nursing for a few months—"for a change principally, and a sort of refresher."

She says difficulty of caring for psychiatric cases under space and equipment limitations, has nothing to do with her decision. And it is easy to believe her when faced with her genuine and practical enthusiasm. One is aware Mrs. MacDonald is not a person to be easily discouraged.

Besides, her future plans definitely entail a return to the work she is obviously so well fitted to do. Among other things, she contemplates a post-graduate course at the University of Washington.

I am particularly interested in treatment of alcoholics," she says. "Yes, I really like field work in mental hygiene and expect I shall make it my life-work."

Mrs. MacDonald assumed her position a few months after the Jubilee unit was completed in 1946, and has been largely responsible for its development since that time. She feels very strongly concerning the need for increased space—there are only eight beds available for the whole Island—the urgent necessity of establishing a day clinic and more facilities for the treatment of alcoholics. Concerning these points, she has this to say: "People stand a better chance of recovery when located in their own community for treatment. They can go home for week-ends and see their people. Our beds are always full, sometimes in shifts, and there is a long waiting list."

Mrs. MacDonald claims Kamloops as her home, and is a graduate of the Royal Inland Hospital in that city, though all but the last nine months of her training was gained at Jubilee Hospital. Subsequent to graduation, she has done post-graduate work in psychiatry.

Glenn C. Holland, consul for The Netherlands in Victoria, drops first donation into a huge Dutch shoe held by Mrs. Pauline Hoffman. Netherlands flags created a background for the shoe, which was well filled before the close of the affair.

$1,300 for Flood Relief

The language of Holland with its long vowels and soft consonants was heard at Club Sirocco yesterday afternoon and evening where members of the Dutch community in this city staged a non-competitive flower and fashion show. Proceeds of more than $1,300 were for flood relief of the Netherlands.

An attractive flower display was donated by Floral Telegraph Delivery Association showing table and special events arrangements and corsages from Seattle, Winnipeg, Kansas, New Orleans, Minneapolis, California, and many places in Canada.

A table centre of daffodils, Chinese narcissus, and deep crimson and yellow polyanthus, was presented by Mrs. Clarence Wallace and a pedestal display of iris, cyclamen, calla lilies and daffodils was arranged by Mrs. Will Spencer. Other attractive entries were those of Mrs. Walter Fletcher, Princess Chikmatoff, Mrs. J. S. Etheridge, Mrs. J. H. Burne, Salmon Arm, Mrs. R. S. O'Meara, Mrs. W. van Nes, Mrs. C. J. Frabon, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lyons.

A table of coins, stamps, pottery and other treasures from Holland was in charge of Mrs. W. van Nes, and included a large flower pot of Delf china more than 130 years old and two pieces of embroidery more than 133 years old.

A display of maps and pictures showing the devastated areas of Holland was in charge of C. W. Ouweland. A home cooking stall was arranged by Mrs. Tom Fieka, Mrs. W. Eekman, Mrs. W. Blackstaff, Mrs. Dan Wood and Mrs. J. Haas. Coffee was dispensed by Mrs. Selma Collins and cocoa by Mrs. D. Horn.

Fashion show was in charge of Mrs. V. Peterson and a musical program given both afternoon and evening by Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Timp and Miss Grace Adams. Plants, donated by a local nursery, were auctioned in the evening.

A bevy of young women in Dutch costumes included Mrs. Hannah Bertsch, Mrs. Yancie Bullen, Mrs. Mary Bozina, Mrs. Johanna Toriglia, Mrs. Paulina Hoffman, Mrs. Eleanor Ralston and little Miss Marlene van Ness.

Music Teachers Present Pupils

A varied musical program was presented recently by the B.C. Registered Music Teachers' Association at Newstead Hall. Junior and intermediate students were the artists and proceeds of the recital were devoted to the scholarship fund of the association.

Solos, duets and trios were included. Two duo-piano numbers were given: Mozart Sonata in D, one movement of which was played by Katharine Burnett and Gordon Estlin, and a Colin Taylor group by Patricia Chatwin and Gail Morrison. Plenty of good talent and careful study was in evidence throughout.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Most Epileptics Live Happily Without Serious Difficulty

There are said to be nearly 800,000 people in the United States who suffer or have suffered epileptic seizures. Thirty years ago most of them would have become burdens on society; today more than three-fourths of them can play, work and live happily without serious difficulty.

Most cases of epilepsy begin before the age of 20. Although it is true that this disease has a liking for, and usually starts, in youth, it is no respecter of sex, race, creed or color.

About one person in every 200 is afflicted, but nearly one person in 10 has some abnormal electric brain waves which suggest that they too have a tendency toward epilepsy—even if they never show recognizable signs.

Patients with a family history of epilepsy are potential carriers of the disease, but some patients who have convulsions do not show any signs of the family pattern. An unfavorable ancestry seems to cause children to react to physical and perhaps mental injury with convulsions.

Patients with a family history of epilepsy and early beginnings of the disease react better to some drugs than those with other forms of convulsions.

Patients with a family history of epilepsy and early beginnings of the disease react better to some drugs than those with other forms of convulsions.

The actual convulsion of severe epilepsy is a frightening thing to see. It may occur at night, however, and without any knowledge on the part of the victim. When this happens, other signs are likely to be present so that some suspicion is raised and then proper steps can be taken to make a diagnosis. Much research has been done

NEWS BRIEFS

A pair of gloves, a box of chocolates and a quantity of groceries were stolen from his car Tuesday night while he was parked on lower Port Street, James C. Garnett, assistant city engineer, reported to city police.

Damage was typed as medium by police in a collision between cars driven by John W. Francis, 107 View Royal and Stanford C. Wray, 1747 Stanley, when they collided at Yates and Cook at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Robert George McKee, 22 Wellington, pleaded guilty in city police court Wednesday to a charge of careless driving and was remanded to March 6 for sentence.

Remand was given as Magistrate H. C. Hall said he first wished to hear evidence in the trial of John C. Stanners, 46 Howe, before imposing penalty. Stanners had pleaded not guilty. They were in an accident Feb. 17 at Howe and Faithful, police said.

The federal budget announced last week will be discussed by Finance Minister Douglas Abbott tonight on a CBU broadcast.

He will be questioned on a Citizens' Forum program at 8 p.m. by a panel of Canadian newspapermen.

City of Victoria's civil defense bill for 1953 will be approximately $17,800, the same as last year, City Comptroller Dennis Young told a finance committee meeting Wednesday.

Although the total budget for the area is $53,200, about $35,000 is "recoverable" from provincial and federal grants, which meet two-thirds of the cost, he said.

L. F. Strutt will be the guest speaker at the February meeting of the Vancouver Island Association of Nurserymen and Allied Trades, to be held at 4265 Quadra Street tonight at 8.

"Power implements for the grower," the topic of the address, will portray the possibilities and limitations of various mechanical aids, and the benefits derived from their use in the small establishment.

Public speaking instruction will include 90-second talks by members on any horticultural subject, and the meeting will conclude following the regular "get-together" between growers, retailers and landscape gardeners.

A course of civil defense for the Esquimalt Lions Club starts next Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. Esquimalt council has given permission for use of the municipal hall.

Benny Thomas was fined $35 Wednesday in city police court when he reappeared for penalty on a charge of unlawfully doing wilful damage in a lower Fisgard Street premises early Tuesday morning. Thomas promised Magistrate H. C. Hall he would pay $27 damage bill for two glass show cases he smashed.

New president of the St. Andrew's Cathedral Glee Club is Walter Cownden. Also elected at a recent meeting were Mrs. O. D. Young, director; Miss Leona Hanc, secretary; Lully Goodman, treasurer; Don Mulcahy, production; Joseph Longpre, publicity; and Mrs. Zena Hartnell, business manager. The meeting made plans for the next club concert in April.

Title Match
LONDON (BUP)—British flyweight champion Terry Allen will meet titleholder Yoshio Shirai of Japan for the world flyweight crown in Tokyo on May 15.

The announcement was made by Allen's manager, Johnny Sharpe, who said that the British champion will fly to Japan about April 18.

The Union of South Africa has nine universities with combined average enrolment exceeding 20,000 students.

PRIVATE OWNERSHIP VICTORY

Yugoslavia Will Abandon Farm Collectivization as Failure

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UP)—Yugoslavia has definitely abandoned farm collectivization and plans to return most of its present collective farms to private ownership this year, Croatian Premier Vladimir Bakarić announced Wednesday.

In deciding the change the government accepted the hard economic fact that collectives do not pay.

Government leaders are now studying intensively the complicated problems involved in the change of policy, Bakarić said, and may make an announcement within about two weeks.

Various methods of improving agricultural production are under consideration, Bakarić said. But whatever is decided, he emphasized, "we will never use any pressure to introduce any new form to replace the old."

Bakarić, a member of the Yugoslav Communist party politburo, is considered the government's principal expert on agriculture.

Announcing in an exclusive interview the change in farm policy, Bakarić said he expects it to result in an increase in production. But he warned that the peasant will still face basic production problems under private ownership.

In saying that not only will further collectivization be stopped but that most existing collectives will be ended, Bakarić said: "On the basis of our analysis of the work of the peasants' working co-operatives (the collective farms) I can say that the great majority of them will certainly not be maintained and that not a single one will be maintained without great changes in methods of operation."

Even the more successful collectives will be broken up, he said, "unless they put all their available means into a new type of production and begin to industrialize themselves—developing closer connections with other industries and with our industrial development in general."

"This means abandonment of a conception or idea," he continued, "that is the idea of the so-called collectivization of the village. It means abandonment of the idea that only collective labor means real socialism. This we are definitely abandoning."

The process of dissolving the farms really began a year ago when losing co-operatives were told they must go or return the land to their individual members.

Most of these poorer collectives already have been dissolved, Bakarić said.

Bakarić said general peasant resistance had had some influence on government policy but he emphasized that it was not the determining factor.

"After all, it was our staunchest supporters who joined the peasant working co-operatives," he said. "Yet they failed. The reasons for their failure were exclusively economic."

Thus, he said, the government is in the somewhat "foolish" position of being opposed now by its own supporters who went into collective farming and winning the favor of anti-collective peasant who had opposed it.

Sex Text Book Charge Said 'Conscious Lie'

HANLEY, B.C. (CP)—The "sex text book" charges made by the legislature by A. J. Reid (S.C. Salmon Arm) were termed "a definite, consciously-constructed lie" by Dr. H. B. King.

Dr. King was chief inspector of B.C. schools and director of curriculum from 1936 until 1946. "The charges are a definite, consciously-constructed lie," he said in an interview Wednesday. "There never was a book handled by the department of education."

"All books authorized in that period passed through my hands. No such book was ever in the department, none was ever authorized, sent for or received."

Dr. King said he organized, directed and edited the school curriculum in the years A. J. Cloutworthy, then a teacher at Telkwa, claims he discovered the sex books under fire.

Boilermakers' Union Declines Extension Of Work Agreement
Members of Boilermakers' Union, Local 191, have rejected a request from operators of Yarrow's Ltd. and Victoria Machinery Depot that the expiry date of their agreement be extended from July 31 to Oct. 15.

Further action will be discussed at a meeting of the union executive Saturday morning.

The agreement date is the only remaining point of contention in a long-standing dispute between the union and shipyard operators.

Boilermakers have agreed to accept a wage increase of 7 1/2 cents per hour and half-payment of health plan premiums, terms on wages all other shipyard unions settled after negotiations that began last summer.

U.K. Will Free Dollars For Canada Buying

LONDON (BUP)—Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler said today Britain will free dollars for investment in Canada once it has sufficient gold and dollar reserves built up.

Butler said that during his Washington visit with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden he would take up the question of American investment in the sterling area and Canada.

He added that an intermediate step toward the liberalization of trade and currency might be the easing of restrictions against British investment in Canada.

Butler said that when he visits Canada after the Washington talks he will inform the Ottawa government of the results of the conferences with U.S. officials.

Eden and Butler were scheduled to sail aboard the Queen Elizabeth for the United States early Friday.

Quebec Legislature Expels Liberal MLA

QUEBEC (CP)—Emilien Lafrance, Liberal member for years, one of the stormiest sittings in the history of the Quebec legislature, was expelled Wednesday night from the Quebec legislative assembly for three days.

The expulsion, second during the current session for Mr. Lafrance, came at the height of a session of the legislature.

During a speech, interrupted by reiterations demanded by Premier Duplessis and punctuated by shouts and vigorous desk-thumping, Mr. Lafrance charged Mr. Duplessis had established "a policy of tolerance and indulgence" in the administration of liquor laws.

Joint Flood Prevention Plan With U.S. Urged in Senate

OTTAWA (CP) — A Manitoba farmer whose home was damaged by four feet of water in the 1950 Manitoba floods said in the Senate Wednesday that he hopes Canada and the United States will co-operate to ensure there is no repetition of the 1950 disaster. Senator A. L. Beaulieu (L., Manitoba), who lives at St. Jean-Baptiste, Man., said rural areas in the province have no protection from future floods. He urged that Canada and the United States make a joint effort to hold back floods at the Red's source in the U.S. or ensure that the river will flow without flooding wide sections of rural Manitoba again.

Leaders' Fellowship buttons are presented by YMCA president, Alan B. Macfarlane, centre, to Maurice Pickering, Mrs. M. Biss, Len Oliver, Mrs. Marge Naysmith, Mrs. Rita Norbury, Les Newell, Jack Todd and Bob Johnstone. Recipients of buttons are listed left to right in picture. Bruce Humber, the other recipient of the award, was absent when the picture was taken.

'Y' President Reaffirms Belief In Inherent Goodness of Youth

The YMCA in 1952 served the largest group of youngsters in its history, president Alan B. Macfarlane said in his annual report at the "Y" annual meeting Wednesday night.

"I want to reaffirm the belief of the YMCA in the inherent goodness and great possibilities of our young people," he said. "Given the opportunity and the encouragement, they will take their place with any generation of young people. If only our material resources paralleled the strength of such belief, then the 'Y' would be as complete an answer as could be found to meet the current problems of youth."

He mentioned the honor accorded the local group when Archie McKinnon and Bruce Humber were appointed coaches of Canada's two major Olympic teams, but was worried about the position of the Community Chest.

"The year ahead will be a difficult one," he said, "but I am sure that the 'Y' with its many friends and its large contingent of voluntary supporters will sail the rough seas without serious mishap."

The 43-year-old building, although inadequate in many ways to house the activities of the "Y," is in as good condition as possible, he said.

Much needed renovation of residence portion of the building has been done, Mr. Macfarlane said, but more is necessary. Ray Parfitt, house committee chairman, said redecorating is proceeding, and that occupancy rate for the year was 32.165 nights.

Much of the redecorating has been done by the ladies' auxiliary, headed by Mrs. C. C. Annett and Mrs. B. E. Nickells. It completely furnished one room and provided materials for 14 others, in addition to keeping linen repaired. Total proceeds of auxiliary fund-raising projects were $484.

Supervising hostess Mrs. M. E. Biss reported 47 weekly events were attended by 4,000 men of the armed services, and three formal dances were held. Time of orchestras was donated by the Musicians' Union, she said, and 98 young women assisted with entertainment.

Major project of the Men's Club was continued construction of the recreation hall at Camp Thunderbird, Glinz Lake, which is now usable for wet weather programs.

Membership during the year reached 2,126, an increase of 295 over that of 1951.

Banner Year For YMCA's Boys' Branch

Boys' division of the YMCA reached an all-time peak in September last year when a membership of 564 boys was recorded, it was reported at the "Y" annual meeting Wednesday night.

Boys from nine to 12 enjoyed swimming, gym activities and educational movies each week, and a physical program of calisthenics and games directed by Ken Robinson, George Denison and Ken Hurn.

Hi-Y clubs met throughout the year, and their council planned joint projects with the boys' work secretary, Clayton Cameron.

Handicrafts and Junior Leaders' Corps work also played an important part in the year's activities.

One of the chief projects was the progress of Camp Thunderbird, Glinz Lake, attended by 177 campers during the season who learned swimming, boating, camp craft and hiking.

Highlights of the year were: Annual open house, in which 350 boys participated.

YMCA Refunds Community Chest $455

Higher revenues from membership fees, from special classes and dormitories enabled the Victoria YMCA to finance 1952 operations, effect urgent repairs to some departments, proceed with refurbishing of others, reduce the association's debt and still turn back $455.19 to the Community Chest.

Figures presented to the annual meeting of the "Y" Wednesday night by G. E. G. Whitaker, finance committee chairman, showed how this was done.

Mr. Whitaker listed total expenditures at $73,872.31 during 1952. Of that, $45,467.50 was raised from memberships, residence and other revenue producers.

In addition $28,860 was allocated to the association by the Community Chest of which $455.19 was returned as surplus.

Government Not Seizing Elevators

OTTAWA (BUP)—The government today refused to take over strikebound Vancouver grain elevators because the action would have repercussions on the labor movement across Canada.

Trade Minister C. D. Howe said the government had received a request by the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union and the labor unions involved but "we are not going to do it."

Howe said the strike situation was "very complex," and there were factors involved which "would affect labor from coast to coast."

B.C. Phone Contracts Probe Promised

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice J. D. Kearney, chairman of the Board of Transport Commissioners, today promised a thorough investigation of B.C. Telephone Co. supply contracts to remove any suspicion concerning them in the public mind.

He made the promise after Sid Zlotnik, Civic Reform Association representative, suggested the company had bought millions of dollars worth of equipment at inflated prices.

The board is hearing the company's application for increased rates.

Vancouver Merchant Fined $6,500

VANCOUVER (CP)—One of the largest police court fines in Vancouver's history, $6,500, was levied today on merchant Gunn Louie.

He was charged with violation of foreign exchange control board regulations in 1947 involving more than $70,000.

Today, Gunn was given until March 9 to pay the $6,500 fine or go to jail for three months.

Stan Long Remains In Serious Condition

Defenseman Stan Long of Victoria Cougars Hockey Club, who narrowly escaped death Wednesday night when injured in a game with Saskatoon Quakers, is "somewhat improved" this afternoon although still in serious condition it was learned by the Times in a long-distance telephone call.

Dr. Barney McPhail, Saskatoon Club physician said Long lost two-thirds of his blood supply before being removed from the ice.

Long's thigh was pierced by a broken stick in a collision with Saskatoon's Chuck McCullough. Two main blood vessels were severed, McPhail said.

Long lost consciousness in the dressing room and again in the operating room. Making no attempt to minimize the seriousness of the injury, McPhail said: "For a while I thought we might lose him."

However, the physician stated late this morning that Long's condition was improved slightly.

"His circulation is good, and though his condition still must be regarded as serious, the outlook is good barring unforeseen complications."

STAN LONG

Long, who had seven blood transfusions last night, was on his eighth transfusion this morning.

Municipalities Ask for Probe Into Schools

Greater Victoria Bodies Make Demand

Greater Victoria municipalities want a royal commission to investigate every phase of British Columbia's school system.

A recommendation that the Social Credit government be asked to appoint such a commission will be put to an emergency meeting of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Vancouver, Saturday, by Greater Victoria representatives.

Mayor Claude Harrison proposed a commission to study curriculum and financing of education in B.C. at a special inter-municipal parley on education costs in his office today.

He was immediately supported by Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich, Reeve A. C. Wurtelle of Esquimalt and Councillor Fred Norris, representing Oak Bay.

Cordova Bay Woman Killed in Car Crash

Mrs. Eva Mitchell, 28, Fatally Hurt;
Driver of Auto Slightly Injured

Her head crushed in a violent Saanich car-truck crash Wednesday night, Mrs. Eva Mitchell, 28, of Cordova Bay Road, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital at 3:40 a.m. today.

It was the first traffic fatality recorded in 1953 in Victoria and district.

A cashier at the Hudson's Bay Co. store, Mrs. Mitchell was a passenger in a small late-model car that was left a mangled wreck after it smashed into a Merchants' Transfer Co. three-ton flat-deck truck parked on the east side of Blenkinsop Road near Simon Road, at 7:55 p.m.

Harry Gordon Mills, Goward Road, Prospect Lake, also an employee of the Hudson's Bay Co., miraculously escaped serious injuries. He was treated at the same hospital for facial and scalp lacerations and then released.

An inquest will be held next Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Sands Mortuary to probe Mrs. Mitchell's death.

Saanich police said the car, going north on Blenkinsop, ploughed into the left rear of the truck.

The right front door of the car was torn off and left wrapped around the deck of the truck. The whole right side of the car was crushed as it carried on, finally landing on its roof in front of the big vehicle, pointed in the opposite direction.

Police said the truck was parked at the edge of the road at a slight angle.

Eye-witnesses said there were no lights burning on the dark-colored truck. There are no street lights in the vicinity.

Mrs. Mitchell's main injuries were a badly fractured skull and a broken jaw and nose.

Mrs. Mitchell, 28, of Cordova Bay Road, had no relatives in Canada, but that her father lives in England.

The body is at Sands Mortuary.

Saanich police contacted the dead woman's ex-husband, Arthur Mitchell, in Toronto.

Mr. Mitchell told Sgt. Jack Hamilton she had no relatives in Canada, but that her father lives in England.

New Sensation Breaks In Row on Education

By GORDON FORBES, Times Legislative Reporter

The provincial government has fired the official who prepared the teachers' manual, "Effective Living," the handbook catapulted into prominence by the current controversy over B.C.'s education system.

Mrs. Muriel Mackay Scafe, executive secretary of the central curriculum committee and director of the educational reference and school service division, was given dismissal notice Wednesday, effective March 31.

"Effective Living" was the teachers' handbook quoted in the House recently by J. A. Reid, Social Credit member for Salmon Arm, during his attack on the province's education system. He charged "immoral textbooks" are being used in the schools.

The book, distributed to teachers only, gave instructions on handling classes with regard to dating, petting, good night kisses and blind dates.

The firing resulted in an immediate outcry of protests, and quick government denials that Mrs. Scafe has been dismissed because of her part in preparing the handbook.

Dr. Larry Giovando (P.C. Nanaimo), will protest the dismissal in the House this afternoon.

Mr. Winch said the government cannot say the firing is economy with efficiency "because they are placing a man with only six years' service to do her work."

Mr. Winch said the government cannot say the firing is economy with efficiency "because they are placing a man with only six years' service to do her work."

Mrs. Scafe is a person who has done a remarkable job in her department. Now she is summarily dismissed without justification.

Mr. Winch said the government cannot say the firing is economy with efficiency "because they are placing a man with only six years' service to do her work."

Part of Mrs. Scafe's job in the education reference department was to edit the publication "B.C. Schools," which went out to every teacher in the province four times a year. It is considered an important service by educationists because it is the only link between the department and the teachers.

The government's plan, although not fully revealed, apparently is to have a "research assistant" take Mrs. Scafe's place as secretary of the curriculum committee at $1,500 a year, more than $1,000 less than Mrs. Scafe's salary.

The man, scheduled for the post, has had six years in the civil service compared to Mrs. Scafe's 19 years.

Police say wreck was one of worst seen in this area. Car was traveling north on Blenkinsop when it hit truck which, observers said, did not have tail light burning. After crash, car spun around and turned over, pointed in opposite direction to which it was traveling. (Photos by Bill Halkett, Hugh Aylmer.)

Greater Victoria Bodies Make Demand

Greater Victoria municipalities want a royal commission to investigate every phase of British Columbia's school system.

A recommendation that the Social Credit government be asked to appoint such a commission will be put to an emergency meeting of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Vancouver, Saturday, by Greater Victoria representatives.

Mayor Claude Harrison proposed a commission to study curriculum and financing of education in B.C. at a special inter-municipal parley on education costs in his office today.

He was immediately supported by Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich, Reeve A. C. Wurtile of Esquimalt and Councillor Fred Norris, representing Oak Bay.

"The UBCM membership cannot accept the Rolston Formula," Reeve Casey stated flatly.

He hotly criticized Bill 45 with its provisions for a provincial assessment commission and warned that the Social Credit government is "acting like Caesar."

"They've conquered and now they are going to divide."

IN THE DARK
All representatives admitted they were in the dark on just how the Rolston Formula, whereby cities of more than 50,000 population must bear increased school costs on a 75-25 basis with the government would affect them.

"The UBCM couldn't get any information of any kind," said Reeve Casey.

He contended municipalities would lose in the long run by having to give up their 1 per cent share of the SS and MA, in view of the province's expanding economy.

"The reeve also protested that this government, unlike all previous governments, had not consulted with municipal representatives before presenting Bill 45."

"I can see the hand of permanent officials in that," commented Ald. Frank Mulliner.

"That's right," agreed the mayor.

BUDGET TROUBLE
In addition to the commission, Mayor Harrison wanted the Greater Victoria school budget for 1953 laid in the lap of the provincial government until the entire matter is clarified. He said the province has full charge of education under the BNA Act.

"If they are going to run the whole show, let them pay for it," was his attitude. No action was taken on this suggestion.

Greater Victoria representatives, however, agreed to return the 1953 estimates to the school board registering protest. They indicated they would not seek arbitration. Reeve Casey felt nothing would be gained.

ENDORSEMENT PROMISED
Victoria City Council was expected to approve the resolution at its meeting this afternoon and other municipal representatives promised endorsement.

The resolution will ask that two items—$36,390 for architects' fees and $18,985 for new furniture—be transferred from current expenses to the capital section of the budget and be limited to one mill. This was suggested by City Manager Cecil Wyatt.

TEACHERS CASTIGATE PREMIER

Greater Victoria teachers have charged Premier W. A. C. Bennett with supporting claims made in the Legislature Monday by James A. Reid (S.C. Salmon Arm), of immoral teachings in B.C. public schools.

Their stand was expressed at a Wednesday night meeting, and was made known in a telegram sent to the premier today.

It read: "Greater Victoria Teachers' Association of the B.C. Teachers' Federation deplores the recent statements on education made by a member of your government, Mr. J. A. Reid, Social Credit member for Salmon Arm."

"We consider your attitude to the present time to be tacit consent to Reid's representations, and as such, a reflection on the integrity of the teaching profession of this province."

Sale of Babies Revealed By Ont. Police

TORONTO (CP)—United States couples bought at least 20 babies here at $250 each and took them back to the United States, police said today.

A Brooklyn, N.Y., couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shindern, both 29, were arrested at suburban Malton airport Wednesday night as they were about to take off in a plane for the U.S. They had with them a five-day-old baby that police said was not their own.

Police said the baby was born Feb. 20 at St. Mary's Hospital here and taken from hospital four days later.

They said the baby was taken without a formula, suitable clothing or blankets.

Police returned it to another hospital and said it "seemed healthy."

The Shinderns were charged with obtaining a birth certificate by fraud. Bail was set at $5,000.

Russia Rumored Ready to Regain German Initiative

BERLIN (AP)—A rumor spread through Berlin today that the Russians are planning a new coup to regain the political initiative in Germany.

Diplomatic quarters buzzed with talk that the Russians contemplated an announcement around mid-May that they would withdraw their troops from Germany.

2. Demands from Moscow that Germany be re-united from the Rhine to the Oder-Neisse. The cocktail circuit which passed the report around came up with one hard fact—diplomats said Moscow has already assigned Gen. Sergei Shatenko to organize the withdrawal of the 300,000 Red army troops and assigned Gen. Sergei Shatenko to the East German "people's police."

Shatenko recently was relieved as chief of the Soviet general staff and replaced by Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky.

New Sensation Breaks In Row on Education

The provincial government has fired the official who prepared the teachers' manual, "Effective Living," the handbook catapulted into prominence by the current controversy over B.C.'s education system.

Mrs. Muriel Mackay Scace, executive secretary of the central curriculum committee and director of the educational reference and school service division, was given dismissal notice Wednesday, effective March 31.

"Effective Living" was the teachers' handbook quoted in the House recently by J. A. Reid, Social Credit member for Salmon Arm, during his attack on the province's education system. He charged "immoral textbooks" are being used in the schools.

The book, distributed to teachers only, gave instructions on handling classes with regard to dating, petting, good night kisses and blind dates.

The firing resulted in an immediate outcry of protests, and quick government denials that Mrs. Scace has been dismissed because of her part in preparing the handbook.

Dr. Larry Giovando (P.C. Nanaimo), will protest the dismissal in the House this afternoon.

'A Most Disgraceful Action'

Said Opposition Leader Harold Winch: "I think it's a most disgraceful action. It's bad for the morale and stability of the civil service."

"Mrs. Scace is a person who has done a remarkable job in her department. Now she is summarily dismissed without justification."

Mr. Winch said the government cannot say the firing is economy with efficiency "because they are placing a man with only six years' service to do her work."

But Education Minister Tilly Rolston said: "It's ridiculous to say Mrs. Scace was fired because of her work on the 'Effective Living' book."

She said the department of education reference and school services, headed by Mrs. Scace, has been eliminated in the "interests of economy and absolute necessity."

"Its abolition was recommended by Kellogg & Stevenson, the management engineers," Mrs. Rolston said.

The minister, however, would not comment on the report that only 15 per cent of Mrs. Scace's duties are connected with that department, the rest being with the curriculum committee.

Dr. Giovando, who will speak on the matter today, has placed several questions on the Legislature's order paper, but Mrs. Rolston hasn't answered them yet.

Mrs. Scace was paid $5,568 in her position of director of the soon-to-be abolished educational reference and school services department.

The 1953-54 estimates showed that elimination of this department will save the government $23,000.

Mrs. Scace has been with the civil service 19 years. She was secretary to Dr. H. B. King when he conducted the complete revision of B.C.'s school curriculum at the time the late Dr. George M. Weir was education minister.

Her dismissal is expected to be fought out under the grievance procedure between the cabinet and the B.C. Government Employees' Association.

Part of Mrs. Scace's job in the education reference department was to edit the publication "B.C. Schools," which went out to every teacher in the province four times a year. It is considered an important service by educationists because it is the only link between the department and the teachers.

The government's plan, although not fully revealed, apparently is to have a "research assistant" take Mrs. Scace's place as secretary of the curriculum committee at $4,500 a year, more than $1,000 less than Mrs. Scace's salary.

The man, scheduled for the post, has had six years in the civil service compared to Mrs. Scace's 19 years.

Mrs. Scace joined the department to work with Dr. H. B. King, author of the well-known King Report on school financing in B.C., and Dr. G. N. Weir, who was then deputy minister of education. He was the architect of the province's present school system.

Hockey Player Loses Two-Thirds of Blood

Defenseman Stan Long of Victoria's Cougars Hockey Club, who narrowly escaped death Wednesday night when injured in a game with Saskatoon Quakers, is "somewhat improved" this morning, although still in serious condition.

Dr. Barney McPhail, Saskatoon Club physician said Long lost two-thirds of his blood supply before being removed from the ice.

Long's thigh was pierced by a broken stick in a collision with Saskatoon's Chuck McCullough. Two main blood vessels were severed, McPhail said.

Long lost consciousness in the dressing room and again in the operating room. Making no attempt to minimize the seriousness of the injury, McPhail said: "For a while I thought we might lose him."

However, the physician stated late this morning that Long's condition was improved slightly.

"His circulation is good, and though his condition still must be regarded as serious, the outlook is good barring unforeseen complications."

Long, who had seven blood transfusions last night, was on his eighth transfusion this morning.

"I used to play hockey myself and I've never seen anything like it," McPhail commented.

Cordova Bay Woman Killed in Car Crash

Mrs. Eva Mitchell, 28, Fatally Hurt; Driver of Auto Slightly Injured

Her head crushed in a violent Saanich car-truck crash Wednesday night, Mrs. Eva Mitchell, 28, of Cordova Bay Road, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital at 3:40 a.m. today.

It was the first traffic fatality recorded in 1953 in Victoria and district.

A cashier at the Hudson's Bay Co. store, Mrs. Mitchell was a passenger in a small late-model car—that was, left a mangled wreck after it smashed into a Merchants' Transfer Co. three-ton flat-deck truck parked on the east side of Blenkinsop Road near Simon Road, at 7:55 p.m.

Harry Gordon Mills, Goward Road, Prospect Lake, also an employee of the Hudson's Bay Co., miraculously escaped serious injuries. He was treated at the same hospital for facial and scalp lacerations and then released.

An inquest will be held next Tuesday at 10 a.m. at Sands Mortuary to probe Mrs. Mitchell's death.

Saanich police said the car, going north on Blenkinsop, ploughed into the left rear of the truck.

LANDS ON ROOF
The right front door of the car was torn off and left wrapped around the deck of the truck. The whole right side of the car was crushed as it carried on, finally landing on its roof in front of the big vehicle, pointed in the opposite direction.

Police said the truck was parked at the edge of the road at a slight angle.

Eye-witnesses said there were no lights burning on the dark-colored truck. There are no street lights in the vicinity.

Mrs. Mitchell's main injuries were a badly fractured skull and a broken jaw and nose. She was rushed to hospital by Constable Robin Stewart where
